

Village hires liason director

FRANKFORT—The village board of Frankfort hired an "executive director", viewed plans for improvement of the present village hall through expansion of its facilities and conversed about a proposed truck route at its meeting Monday night.

This took up most of its time but after 10:45 the members were still going strong in an executive session asked for by Trustee Donald Stupp.

Burton H. Breidert, chairman of the plan commission, recently retired as a lumber dealer, and active for many years in civic affairs, has been named by the board to fill the newly created post of "executive director."

At his request Breidert will take the job on a part-time basis for six months. He is to serve as a liason man between public and board and village employees and department heads, handle public relations and otherwise serve as a general trouble shooter.

New Lenox has used such an official very effectively for many years and recently hired a new one to replace Roy Dowle, who went to Florida.

As a businessman, a builder, head of the plan commission since its inception, a former president of the Frankfort Chamber of Commerce and active in community and civic affairs, Breidert brings to his new job a wealth of experience, it was pointed out by Mayor Glen Warning and Trustee Richard Trevathan, who served as the committee to talk with Breidert about the position.

It was not announced at the meeting when Breidert would begin his duties, but probably within a week, it was believed Warning is expected to name a new plan commission chairman.

It is expected that one of the first tasks of the executive director will be to discuss with new and prospective industry the advantages of annexing to the village and to point out to residents the advantage it is to them to have industry and what industry does for the village. This is a favorite theme of Mayor Warning.

Frankfort, along with New Lenox and Mokena has a service fee of $750 an acre for providing water to acreage site (in New Lenox the fee is going up) so a firm with a five-acre site would pay $3,500 to be on a water line, plus the tap-on costs.

August J. Santoro, village attorney, told the board that Casimir Waczewicz, who is building a steel fabricating plant south of Frankfort on Center Road, believed the $750 an acre was too high and suggested a reduction to $500, or that the fee be applied only to the acreage covered by the plant, which it was said would be a minimum of one acre. As the other parts of the site were improved the village would collect.

The board agreed to consider this installment improvement but on a $750 fee basis. It was believed Breidert could work things out along this line with all the potential industries.

The Frankfort board gave approval to an ordinance which would require housing developers to give land or cash to involved school district to overcome the time lag they now face in collecting taxes and instructed Santoro to draft one for adoption. The contributions would be made according to a formula. Bills providing the same relief are now in the Illinois Assembly. Mokena and New Lenox will have similar ordinances.

Gene Tullis, Homewood architect, consulted by Trustee Trevathan relative to remodeling the village hall, appeared before the board with preliminary plans which brought favorable comment from the trustees.

No action was taken, however, and Tullis was asked to return with a rough draft of plans for the large frame building the village purchased at the southwest corner of Kansas and Hickory streets. Tullis has looked through the building, he said, and suggested that something be done to repair a portion of the roof that appears to be in a weakened condition.

The board, at this juncture, has no thought of locating village offices across the street. It will use the place to store equipment but there is a lot of space there the board feels could be utilized by community groups and organizations. Trustee Lynn Kohlhaugen pointed out it would be a good place for Boy Scouts to store equipment, including canoes.

Tullis suggested that the north end of the village hall be left as it is. The preliminary plans call for a door cut through the west wall into what was once the fire station and later used as a garage village equipment. This section could be used as a council chamber, Tullis said.

The large doors at the front of the building would be replaced by a wall and a window. The remainder of the room could accommodate about 50 persons, Tullis said, and serve as chamber for those having business with the village board.

There would have to be some steps leading from the present hall to floor level in the council chamber, it was said, and the floor would have to be leveled and the ceiling dropped. The walls could be left painted, as they are, or fired and covered with drywall, Tullis said. It may be that a new heating and air conditioning system should be installed, the architect said or adjustments made in the present ones. There is no central air conditioning now.

In the part of the hall now used by the council and the other offices, there would be a general office, a clerk's office, offices for the building department, the chief of police and the mayor. Tullis estimates the total cost at around $26,500-$31,500 for remodeling the garage section, and $15,000 for the other part.

Allan Mager, a former village trustee, and one of the committee of which Duane Warning and Trustee Trevathan are the other members, talked to the board about a truck route through the village.

Mager said the village could do nothing or could adopt one of the six alternative plans the committee suggested, including (1) the taking over responsibility for the upkeep of state and county roads so the village could impose load limits and other restrictions not permitted now; (2) the building and extension of Ohio Street from Center Road to U.S. 45, or (3) seeking voluntary compliance by trucking firms in diverting most of their traffic away from residential area.

Lynn Kohlhaugen of K & K Concrete which probably contributes to about half of the problem, it was said, emphasized his company has diverted a large amount of their truck traffic away from the residential sections.

This voluntary route suggested by Mager would use U.S. 45 and Laraway Road for trucks coming from or going to the north and west. East bound trucks would largely use Sauk Trail, it was said and that is the direction a lot of the traffic taking today, it was said.

It was believed that when Laraway Road is completed east and if an d when Ohio Street is built, much of the problem will be solved. It was said around $300,000 would be needed for Ohio Street, Santoro suggested that perhaps Ohio Street could be built through special assessment.

"It would be well worth it to property owners as completion of this street would greatly increase the value of their property for industrial use."

The board is expected to have an answer for Mager at its June 5 meeting and the indications are that the village will go for the voluntary method. This did not work out the other time it was tried a few years ago but one observer pointed out "...hope springs eternal etc."

An ordinance was passed changing the name of Dakota Court Court, between Hackberry and Cottonwood-to Hawthorne Road, was adopted by the council. The post office and the property owners will be notified and new street signs erected, Santoro said, and the ordinances will be effective.

An ordinance raising the fee for zoning meetings from $100 to $150 has been sent to the zoning board for public hearing May 23. It was brought out at the board meeting that at the $100 fee the village was losing money. There were 25 zoning meetings between February, 1971, and March, 1972. It cost $4,128 to hold these meetings and the income through fees came to $2,518, or a cost to the village of $1,610.

A sign is to be installed to the effect that the lot immediately south of the new village building may be used by the public for parking.

At the request of the American Legion Auxiliary of the Bobzin-Swinford Post, Mayor Warning has proclaimed May 20 as Poppy Day in Frankfort.

The Auxiliary will sell the memorial flower of World War I to aid disabled veterans and their families. The poppies are made by disabled veterans and purchased by the Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars for re-sale to the public.

The mayor also proclaimed the second week of September as Foster Parents Week.

The village is to take bids of a carry-call type of vehicle, of the three-quarter ton type.

Hearing set on zoning change petitions

GREEN GARDEN — There will be a public hearing on two zoning petitions at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 23, in the Green Garden Town Hall. The petitions filed by Dr. Robert R. Walper, Chicago, are for a trailer court (B-5) and a sewage disposal system to serve it which would require a light industrial classification.

There are 34 acres destined for the trailer court and six acres for the sewage treatment plant. The land is located in Section 11 on the northwest corner of Dralle Road and 80th Avenue.

Reports from the area indicate there will be opposition to the zoning.

Moms, daughters hear Mrs. Wenberg

NEW LENOX — Women of the New Lenox Church of the Nazarene had a mother-and-daughter salad bar May 9 in Fellowship Hall at the church with 70 in attendance.

The theme, "Tribute of Love," was portrayed through several readings, a solo, and a song by a three-generation group. Mrs. Elmer Wenberg, Joliet, was the guest speaker.

The Nazarene Church has Sunday School at 9:45, worship at 10:45, youth activities between 4 and 6:45 p.m. and evangelistic services at 7:30 p.m.

There is a prayer hour at 7:15 on Wednesdays.

Board picks architects

NEW LENOX — The architectural firm of Treiller and Scheidtmantle, Park Ridge, has been hired by the Lincoln-Way High School board to draft plans for a trainable mentally handicapped (TMH) cooperative school building.

This project is a cooperative effort with the high school and the underlying elementary districts participating. They include schools at Manhattan, New Lenox, Frankfort and Mokena.

The high school board, however, is in charge of the building program. The building will be located on the present campus. It is to be a one-story structure containing about 7,000 square feet of floor space. It is to be of brick construction with the brick matching that which has been used in the high school buildings. It is expected to cost about $155,000.

Up to now educable mentally handicapped (EMH) have been attending classes in special rooms at the various elementary schools.

Supt. Joe Kruzich outlined a plan under which Lincoln-Way will finance itself until the 1971 taxes are collected, which probably will be sometime next fall or winter. The high school will need approximately $960,000 to operate the first six months of the 1972-73 school year.

Arrangements have been made with the four banks in New Lenox, Mokena, Manhattan and Frankfort to borrow about $250,000 from each at an interest rate of four percent. The money will be borrowed as needed.

The board adopted the departmental budget of $128,288.13 which covers supplies needed for the coming school year. This is up about $6,000 over last year, it was reported.

School boards are being asked to back the suggestion of County Supt. Noyd Bucher that the state make its aid payment in lump sums, which would be of great help to districts this year with tax payments to be made so late, it was pointed out.

Lincoln-Way is winding up in the black again this year as it has the past eight years and a lump sum payment of $100,000 from the state to cover the first six months of aid would be of great assistance, it was pointed out, and might stave off issuance of tax anticipation warrants.

The only place there has been a deficit has been in the cafeteria and that has only amounted to about $4,000 over a period of two years and with a $200,000 budget. To correct this the school is asking the state superintendent's office for permission to raise the price of lunches five cents. This would put the price of student lunches at 45 cents next year while adults would pay 50 cents; they now pay 40 and 45 cents respectively.

Two teachers were hired by the board on recommendation of Supt. Kruzich. These are Paul Windish, in agriculture, and Mrs. Mary George as a part-time teacher in the work-study program.

Windish is a graduate this year from Illinois State University with a BS degree. His starting salary will be $8,000. Mrs. George, now a full-time teacher at Beecher High School will receive $4,950 for her part-time work. She succeeds Sharon Marth, who has resigned.

Queen tickets on sale

MOKENA — Four Lincoln-Way High School girls are candidates for queen in the community's annual July 4 festival.

The girls are Barb Hostert, Liza Shoop, Jenny Zangri, all sophomores, and Juanita Newau, freshman.

The queen candidates will begin now selling tickets for votes, according to Lyman C. Teague, chairman of the Queen Committee.

The festival is sponsored by the Mokena Lions Club.

Bank building work underway

MOKENA — Work has been started on the new home of the Mokena State Bank. The new bank will be centrally located on the site that runs about a quarter of a block west of Mokena Street between Front and First, and will be situated just behind the present quarters.

When the new building is completed the present structure will be dismantled.

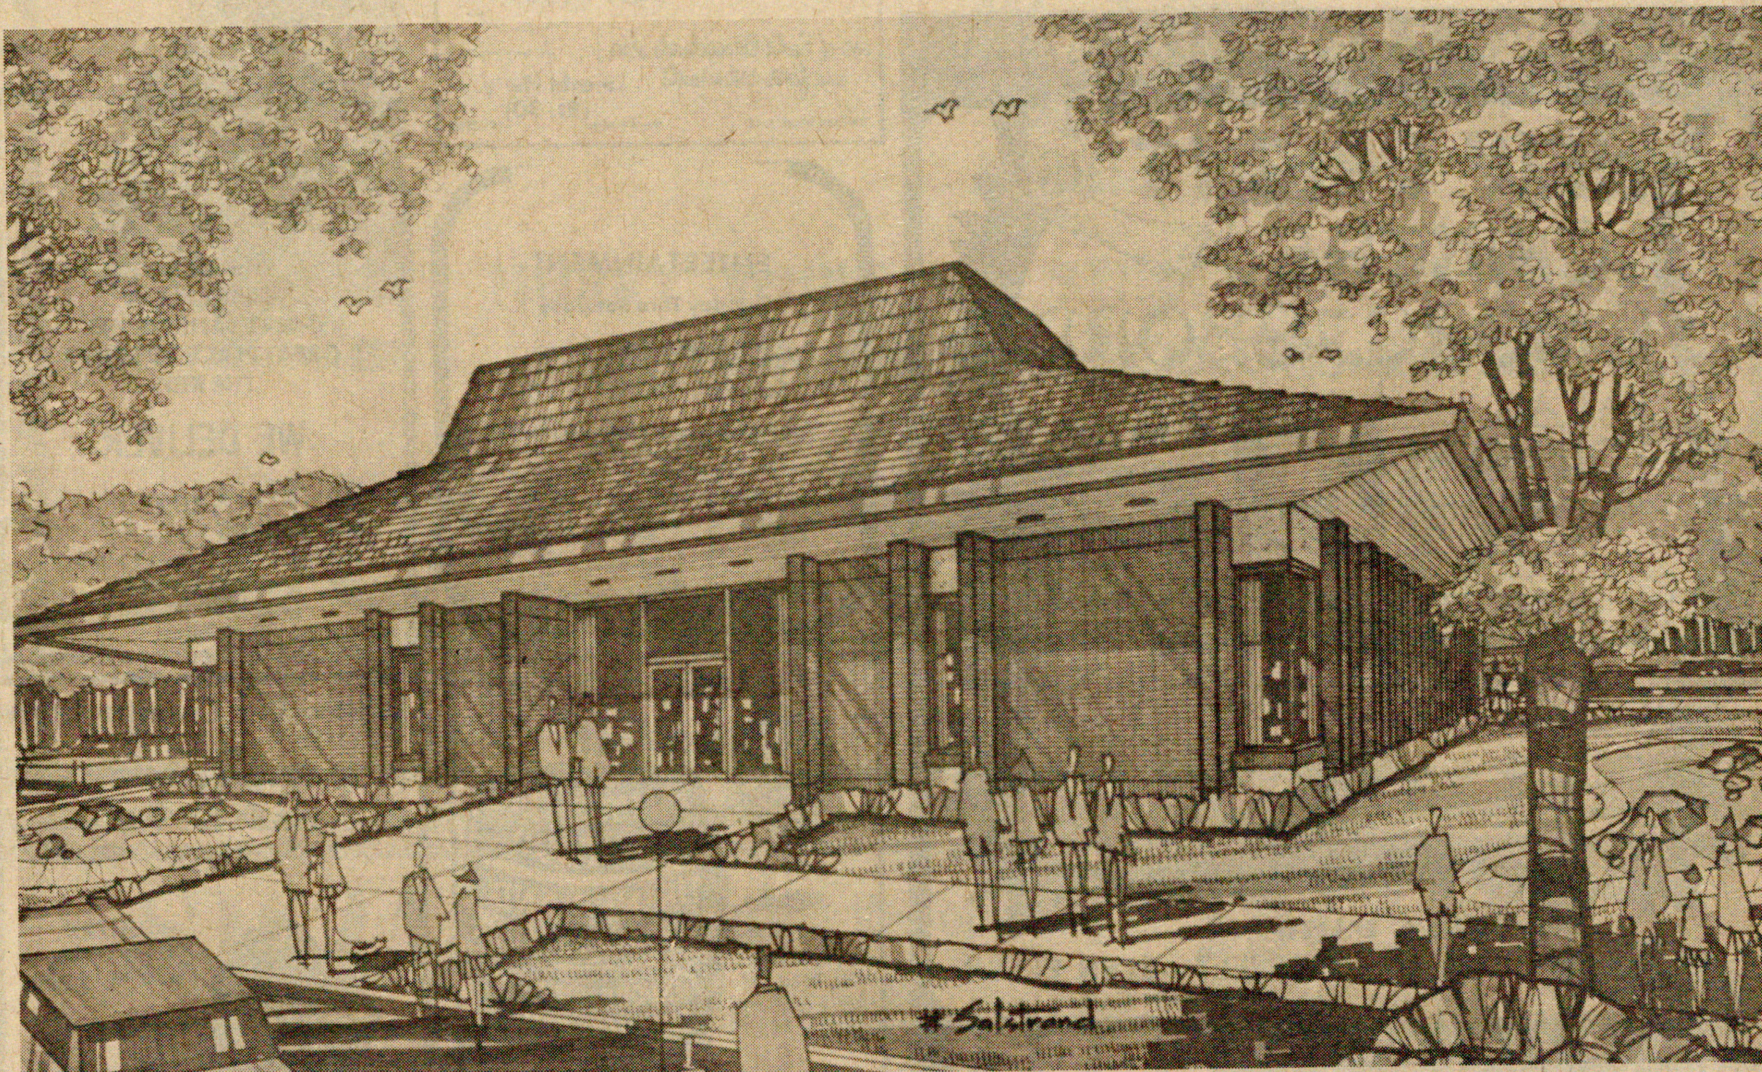

The new quarters of the bank will have a frontage of about 78 feet facing Front Street, with a depth of some 60 feet. Drive in facilities will be installed on the west side of the building. The first one will have a window opening into the bank proper, and provision will be made so that two more can be built on an island later, according to those in charge.

The new building will be a brick structure and the site landscaped. There will be parking directly off Front Street, where the present bank stands, as well as to the east. There will be some parking space also at the north end of the property, it was said.

The Mokena State Bank, now in its 63rd year of service to the community, has resources in excess of $7-million.

The new quarters, according to a bank spokesman, will cost in excess of $300,000. According to the working schedule the new bank is expected to be in use by late autumn.

New teacher does double-duty

ORLAND PARK — Brian Vandenberg, a first year teacher at Sandburg High School, and a '67 graduate of Tinley Park High School, is the director of Sandburg's spring play "Charley's Aunt."

He advised that the play is shaping up well, and, "We are going to have some really elaborate sets made under the direction of Brian Johnson. The stage manager is Ted Wilcox, and the head of the stage crew is Sandy Nagel, with Jan DeCosmo and Wayne Bozenda putting it all together. The make-up is headed by Caren Jancik who has done a lot of research on the time period so that costumes will be authentic. The rehearsals are coming along great."

As a student at Northern, Vandenberg was in the play "How to Succeed in Business," among others, and directed "Stop the World I Want To Get Off." He was a student teacher at Aurora East where he served as assistant director to "Camelot," with a chorus of 90.

Vandenberg said that he did not start out to become an actor, but was originally a swimmer. In fact, he even won a diving scholarship to college. However, when he had his first taste of acting in "Hamlet," and a conflict arose, he quit swimming, and says that he has not regretted the choice. "I really consider myself dedicated to 'theater,' in its structure as well as its art. I find it gratifying hearing applause as a performer, as well as a director."

"Charley's Aunt" is scheduled to be held June 1, 2, and 3 at Sandburg High School, 133rd and Lagrange Road, Orland Park.

Young scientists win honors

Four first place awards and one outstanding award were garnered by three eighth grade students at the Illinois State Science Fair Competition.

The students, who are in the eighth grade at St. Michael School, were entered in the fair held at the University of Illinois in Urbana on May 13.

Charlotte Rybacki took an "outstanding", the highest honor, for her science paper. She also merited a first place for her project. The paper and project were on "The Effect of Atmosphere on Varnish."

James Walsh merited a first place on his paper and his project on "Testing Water Quality in the Chicago Area."

Mary Nihean, who entered only her project, earned first place for "The Effect of Toothpaste on Dental Enamel."

To become eligible to enter state competition the children first entered their school fair and then had to win a first place award at the Chicago District Science Fair held at the Amphitheater on March 25. Three hundred and fifty students from Archdiocesan schools in the Chicago District thus qualified. However, only 259 could be chosen to go to "State" because of a quota attached to each of the 11 districts in the state.

Under this quota another eighth grader, Brian Strada, could not enter state competition. Three seventh graders, Mary Germino, Mary McCabe and Jeff Biggott also were unable to go to state competition. Science teacher John Donohue said they will have their chance next year, hopefully.

Donohue added there were about 1,000 projects entered in the State Fair representing 150 public and parochial schools from all over the state.

Parish elects officers

ORLAND PARK — Officers for the year 1972-73 were elected by the Council of Catholic Women of St. Michael Parish Tuesday May 9.

Selected to head the 450 woman organization was Mrs. Edward (Henrietta) Grigus. Completing the roster of officers are vice president Mrs. Adair Ramage, treasurer Mrs. Albert (Loretta) Steffan, and recording secretary Mrs. Frank (Lucille) Graben.

Because of the large membership there will be three corresponding secretaries for the first time. Mrs. Thomas (Sally) Kelly, Mrs. Richard (Karen) Klein and Mrs. Marlin (Mary Lee) Rauch will assume those duties.

The new officers will take over their duties at the Installation Luncheon at Silver Lake Country Club on June 13 at 1 p.m. Arrangements are being handled by Mrs. Brendan (Laurel) Greene and Mrs. Hugh (Marion) Nudd.

Outgoing officers are president Mrs. Robert Wavering, vice president Mrs. Graben, treasurer Mrs. Raymond Rybacki, recording secretary Mrs. Ramage, corresponding secretaries Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Klein. The moderator is the Rev. Frank Coyle.

The council is composed of six commissions: organizations, ways and means, church communities, family affairs, international affairs and community affairs.

Help needed!

ORLAND PARK—People with "feeling" are still being sought to help in the restoration of the vandalized cemetery at 154th street and Harlem Avenue.

An account has been opened at the Orland State Bank for anyone who can donate even $1 toward buying the materials needed. Mrs. George Brown, Chairman of the Restoration Committee suggest anyone visiting the cemetery at the base of the new water tower will realize the money that is needed to clean up the area.

In particular, money is needed to purchase fencing and sod. Two thousand yards of sod are required for the plot. Henry Rafacz of Rafacz Sod and Landscaping Co. has donated 500 yards of sod for the cemetery. Mrs. Brown is in the process of coordinating the offers of help she has already received.

She stresses she is far short of sufficient money and help.

Beaver should learn to adapt

By Glenn Logan

The beaver question, which was discussed recently in this department is up again. It was brought out then that Will County has a fairish supply of beaver on hand, enough at least that at a certain season they may be trapped.

Reportedly J. Theodore Meyer, a state representative from the 28th district in Chicago, has suggested instead of killing off the surplus beaver that they be live-trapped and transported to other sections of the state in which these big-toothed, hairy engineers are in short supply.

There are experts in all fields and no doubt there are many who can give you all the fine points on the beaver. Your correspondent is not one of these. All he knows about beavers is what he has read here and there. According to the history books the beaver was a prime source of income to trappers and an even greater source to the fur traders. The pelts provided good warm coats, capes and ornamental trim, and the fur was also utilized in the making of men's hats.

And from what we have heard prime pelts still bring a good buck.

If there were a fraternal organization named after the beaver his teeth could be used in fashioning lapel pins (there's no market for watch charms anymore) but as far as this department knows the only beavers lodge is the kind he lives in and he needs his teeth to cut the lumber required for that and his dam.

Whether beavers who live in this part of the state would do well in Southern Illinois is something your correspondent doesn't know. If there are beaver down in Egypt, say, they probably have the same accent that prevails among the people there but that shouldn't pose any language barrier. It could be that our beaver might have difficulty understanding an Alabama or a Georgia beaver, or one from Louisiana or Mississippi but should make out alright with the downstate kinfolks.

Perhaps it would be a good thing to keep our beavers at home and put them on the payroll of the state and federal engineering departments. Those agencies urging more retention ponds as a means of flood control could put them to work.

From what I can learn beavers are good workers. They work cheap too, if any taxing bodies or organizations using dam builders want to trim their budgets. A few bags of bark or a tree now and then is all they require and you won't find any engineers that will work for that.

What beavers do in their spare time or leisure hours, this department doesn't know. Was reading about others the other day and it seems they like to play. It is said that otters will build a mud slide on the banks of a stream and take turns doing bellybusts.

As far as I know beavers do not go coasting. Nor have I ever heard of beavers going skiing or playing badminton, billiards or the French horn. Any seal that is worth his fish can play the melody of "America" on a horn and with enough fish and patience could pick out the chorus of "Wait 'Til the Sun Shines, Nelly," and then clap his flippers. I have no doubt that a beaver, who already has a degree in engineering, could be taught to the oboe, and at the same time lay on to the drum with that paddle tail.

What good it would do a beaver to learn these things I don't know. Vaudeville is dead and the TV version of same is likewise at the present time. The first obnoxious playing beaver probably could get bookings on TV variety shows but there is little future in it.

Unless man does find some place where beaver can go and enjoy themselves they may be in for a hard time, with subdivisions and industries taking over creeks and rivers for sewerage disposal. It is too bad that beavers can't adapt themselves to city life like so many of the wild creatures do with considerable success.

As far as I know beavers have never slapped, kicked or bit a human being, or otherwise attacked or preyed on one. They should be excellent neighbors, especially if they confined their timber felling to their own trees.

Water A guest editorial

By RICHARD D. DURKIN

It has been gratifying to have had the opportunity to work with two neighbors towards a solution to one of the major problems facing the Southwest Suburbs, a guaranteed supply of water.

Over 1½ years ago the Village of Oak Lawn made a proposal to the villages of Tinley Park and Oak Forest to extend their water system (using Chicago water) to our area.

The first phase of an over all system required a cooperative effort of Tinley Park and Oak Forest.

After extensive study, investigation and analysis of alternatives, a final proposal has been reached between the three communities. Although a contract has not been acted upon by the communities, I would hope for a quick ratification of the contract by the respective governmental bodies.

The Village of Oak Lawn and particularly Mayor Fred Dumke have demonstrated a keen interest in the basic needs of our entire area through their efforts and proposal.

Mayor Dumke has a highly commendable philosophy, "That every citizen should have a guaranteed supply of water at a reasonable price. His proposal effectively becomes a cornerstone in the foundation of our community planning. For his unselfish concern we thank Mayor Dumke.

Oak Forest was very ably represented by Trustee O'Connor, who has worked long and hard on behalf of his village board and citizens. The positive and cooperative efforts of Mayor Kelly and the village board deserve special noting.

The new constitution of our state makes special provision for neighboring communities to work together in solving regional type problems. This program has been one of the finest examples of the importance of constitutional intent.

For their outstanding contributions we would like to say to the villages of Oak Lawn and Oak Forest, "Thanks, neighbors."

Secrets

Time to close, open meetings

A recent article that appeared in this paper involved the complaint of some citizens objecting to a school board calling an executive session.

The "Executive session" has become a rule rather than an exception with almost all public bodies, which always seem to find cause to hold an executive session during some part of their meeting.

Public bodies are allowed into such secret hearings during the course of regular meetings to discuss the main issues, personnel and the purchase but not the sale of property.

The idea of executive sessions on these issues has its valid points. Personnel problems, which may involve either employees of the public body or in the case of school boards, students as well, often involve home, family, or other personal problems which are better off not aired in public. Executive sessions regarding the purchase of property keeps persons from making a quick purchase of the land being sought by the public body and then selling it for a quick profit.

Under these circumstances executive session may be justified, however it has become almost a universal practice among public bodies that matters other than those mentioned are considered in executive session in a deliberate effort to subvert the public's right to know.

More than one person who has served on public bodies over the years, both in the city and suburban areas, has told members of this editorial staff, that executive sessions often discuss things not connected with personnel or the purchase of property.

Adding to the stigma of sessions is that while the above mentioned subjects may be heard in executive session there is no law that says they must be heard in private. In other words, the public body if it wanted to could hold all discussions in public and completely eliminate executive sessions.

One school board recently passed a resolution that a meeting could not be tape recorded without the permission of the board. However, in a recent California case interpreting the Brown Act, which is similar to the Illinois Open Meetings Act, has been interpreted by the courts to permit the recording of meetings as long as the act of recording or the recording mechanism did not distract from or interfere with the proceeding of the public body. Public officials often claim to be misquoted by the press, yet there are apparently efforts afoot to limit the use of tape recorders by some public bodies when the tapes would be a proof in determining if an individual had been misquoted.

As we said previously, we could probably find little fault with executive sessions if the discussions were limited to the topic they are supposed to be, but there is too much temptation for public bodies to fudge on the session rules, and ignore the public's right to know, to allow the public and press to cease their criticisms of such sessions.

Orland funds aid handicapped

ORLAND PARK — The Handy Camp Association for Handicapped Children, located in Park Forest, and serving the South Suburban area, is one of the 7 agencies which receives support from the Orland Township Community Chest, which funded over $11,000 to such agencies in 1971.

Handy Camp receives about 35% of its funding from Community Chest support throughout the South Suburban communities and provides a very unique six week program in the summer for physically and mentally handicapped children. In 1971 the camp had 134 handicapped children enrolled and since it was the most successful year, the Board of Directors are planning to establish a third camp this summer to serve the new demand.

Two unique aspects of Handy Camp make it significantly different from other organized camping facilities for handicapped children. First no child is ever rejected as a camper because he has an especially severe handicap or multiple handicaps. Second, teen-age volunteers are used as counselors on a one-to-one ratio with campers, under the direction and supervision of paid, trained and qualified staff. More than 100 teen volunteers attend camp each day.

The camping season begins the last week in June and continues for six weeks. The children are encouraged to take part in a full program of swimming, sports, arts, crafts, music and special trip days. Special trip days include such activities as going to the airport, zoo, playing miniature golf, bowling, fishing, and visiting Kiddleland.

Facilities used to help make their summer program a success are school buildings, play areas, Forest Preserves, swimming pools, and professional staff including a Red Cross water safety instructor and a Registered Nurse.

Applications and information may be obtained by contacting the directors, Marvin Pierce, 754-4782 or Charles Hussman, 672-5460. Scholarships are available to those who cannot pay the tuition.

The Orland Township Community Chest feels this type of service provided by Handy Camp well deserves the support given.

Critics question use of center

TINLEY PARK — Whether or not the Southern Cook County Training Center for Handicapped Children, as a matter of course, floods, stinks and produces bacteria, is becoming one of the Southwest Cook County Cooperative Association for Special Education's major irritants.

Rosemary Pugliese, District 228 board member and special education chairman, at the District 228 board meeting on May 9, attacked the coop for allowing "unsanitary conditions" to persist at that building located at 184th Street and Central Avenue.

"The sewer system has been poor for a long time. Director Benjamin Braun has received a letter of protest from our district asking that the situation be remedied," she said. The district has 17 handicapped students attending the center.

She expressed dissatisfaction at the "vagueness" of his written reply. "The only correction made during this 30-day period was the hiring of a maintenance man two days per week."

She continued, "Now the messes can be cleaned up quicker than before. But the messes continue."

At the co-op board meeting the following morning, on Wednesday, May 10 District 228 Supt. John Flynn stated that District 228 will withdraw its students from the center and place them in one of the district schools if a radical solution is not possible. "Even though we do this reluctantly."

Lyman Anfield, Tinley Park resident and member of the Cook County Clean Streams organization, addressed the board with some findings and recommendations.

He said the situation could be eliminated by using chemical toilets during the worst flooding seasons. Or, a holding tank could be installed which will eliminate the septic system. Neither of these alternatives, he said, are very expensive. Nor is bottled water costly.

He added, "We're in a flood plane. It is poorly drained. I think you are taking a considerable chance allowing the condition to continue."

Flynn agreed that "high water vulnerability is always there" and the general consensus was that springtime brings sewer back-ups and often severe flooding in the building.

Richard Riffel, superintendent of District 118, added, "My board has suggested that something be done by September or the school be closed."

Braun expressed the opinion that housekeeping seemed to be the main problem. "Odors are now non-existent. Parents have offered no adverse remarks. It is my feeling that we've coped with this question."

However, it appears that the board is going to earnestly probe the matter. Complaints against the center will be categorized, written evidence from the Health Department and Sanitary District will be secured regarding the advisability of keeping the center open as it.

Inspection reports on the septic system and water tests, whether negative or positive, should be forthcoming.

Editor:

I want to quote from last week's OAK FOREST HERALD as follows: "Then you should write your legislator in Springfield" answered board member James Blankenship. He seemed to be referring to the common belief that school boards are required by state law to discuss personnel and real estate matters behind closed doors."

I was not referring to such a common belief nor do I subscribe to such a belief. My reference was to the fact that the board has a choice of either a closed or an open hearing on personnel matters. I had that choice and I made the one I felt most judicious for the overall good of the District. That authority is given to me by the Legislature of this State. If the people don't want me to have such a choice, they should petition their legislators for a change in the law to provide only for open hearings on all matters.

I will mark my record with any other board member in the history of this District in fighting for the citizen's right to know all facts — and I can assure you that when I myself know all the facts as they have been brought out in this hearing, the Public will know them. I hope that at that time the newspapers will devote the space to publish these facts in full.

There is no need for any newspaper to ever editorialize as to what I probably meant. They need only to ask me. I speak plain old fashioned English.

As to the rest of the article and previous articles, I have thought and still do that every effort has been made — particularly with the Oak Forest Herald — to fairly report the facts. My compliments to them for their efforts.

On the weekend of April 22-23, the Webelo's Den of Pack 329, in Gingerwood, participated in an overnight camping trip at the Calumet Council Scout Show, in Crown Point, Ind. The boys in attendance were Kevin Burns, Mike Curry, Mark McCoy, Mike Gorszyk, John Evancho, Mark DeBarge, Steve Brookhouse, Mike Gonzales, Robert Payne, Jim Posthumous, Jim Wallace, Scott Smedley and John Gorman.

The fathers who assisted and slept out on this cold weekend were John Brookhouse, Bob Gorszyk, Jack Wallace and myself, Larry Evancho. For all these boys, this was their first overnight trip, and in all my experience of scouting, I have never seen first nighters do such a great job.

The camp was set up by the boys in quick time, and there were no arguments when it came to water detail or wash detail. The boys visited all the displays that were shown, walked the Monkey Bridge and participated in a wood badge game. In spite of the dampness and the cold, the boys had a great time and came home "dead tired."

All boys mentioned received outdoor awards at the April 27 Pack meeting.

Congratulations to all those darling girls that partook in the performance of Reflections Through The Eyes of A Child at Tinley Park High School gym Thursday and Friday evening, April 27-28. It was just wonderful. Also to be complimented was the school sponsor, Mrs. Shirley Moorhouse and all the other people responsible for making it such a success.

Another fine thing is to see so many people backing these events that are put on all through the year. It sure helps when parents and friends all turn out to see what can be done with young people.

My husband and I, and also Therese Engels' great aunt came from Edgerton, Wis., and were accompanied by many relatives and friends to the performance Friday evening.

Nice going teenagers and hope we can come in again next year, know it will be a good show again.

The Oak Forest Trustees approved a resolution at the last Board meeting but I believe more individual citizen action is needed.

The House of Representatives of the State of Illinois have, in subcommittee, Bills 658 and 659. These bills have been passed by the Senate.

If these bills are released from subcommittee and are approved by the House, they will give Oak Forest, and other cities and villages, the power to require sub-developers to contribute land or cash to public school districts.

I believe that the passage of these bills will reduce or prevent future tax increases for educational purposes to the people of Oak Forest.

The claim has been made that Home Builders Associations have been succeeding in keeping these bills in subcommittee and, thereby, preventing their consideration and passage.

Through your paper, I am asking the citizens of Oak Forest to write their representatives (Representative Don Moore, Representative Leland Rayson

Towns agree on contract

Chances good for Chicago water

OAK FOREST-TINLEY — Chicago water may be on its way to the entire southwest suburban area.

A contract was ironed out last Wednesday that would bring city water south from Oak Lawn into Oak Forest and Tinley Park. The line would also provide hookups for other local communities that want Chicago water.

First, however, the contract has to be approved by the trustees of the three towns involved. If any of the communities balks, the deal (and the water) will "go down the drain." There should be no problem with Oak Lawn's approval, since it will in fact be selling the water. Tinley Park's board approved the contract at Monday night's meeting.

Oak Forest cannot act on the contract until a public hearing has been held. Dennis O'Connor, Oak Forest trustee who met with the other town officials, said that a hearing will probably be scheduled within the next two weeks. A special meeting of the Oak Forest Board of Trustees has been called for this Friday at 8 p.m. to review the water contract.

O'Connor said, "I will recommend approval by the board of trustees after the public hearing has been held." O'Connor said that the line will provide protection from water shortages in a rapidly expanding area. "Also, as additional communities hook up to the line, the spreading of the cost will mean a reduction in water rates to both Oak Forest and Tinley Park."

O'Connor could not give an exact cost for the water to Oak Foresters but that, "the increased cost to the residents will be insignificant when compared to the current operating costs of water softeners and the deterioration to plumbing and water using devices."

Tinley Park's representative at the water talks was Trustee Richard Durkin, who like O'Connor, is head of his town's water committee. Durkin presented the water contract to his fellow trustees at last Saturday's village "brainstorming" seminar at Silver Lake Country Club.

Durkin said that Chicago water will cost Tinley residents 75 cents per 1000 gallons. This would represent about a $9 increase in the average quarterly water bill of $13.50.

Tinley residents presently pay about 50 cents per 1000 gallons. Oak Forest residents presently pay about 90 cents per 1000 gallons. Oak Forest's rate is higher because its present water facilities are better.

Oak Forest has seven wells, one of which is "deep" at 1800 feet. The others are considered "shallow" at between 300 and 500 feet. The city also has a three million-gallon reservoir that should need only minor modifications with the coming of Chicago water. Tinley Park has three shallow wells and one reservoir that has a capacity of 275,000 gallons. Tinley can also turn to the state hospital and its reservoir of 500,000 gallons in case of emergency.

If Tinley is to accept Chicago water, a four million-gallon reservoir would be built around 159th Street and Harlem Avenue. The village also would have to put in pumping facilities and main and transmission lines. Durkin said that these could be installed "at no cost to our taxpayers."

"We are currently arranging for the financing of these additions through a major financial institution," he said. "The funds used will be created from our resolution which requires a contribution from developers to water systems. By not adding the cost of these improvements to our water rate as most communities do, we realize a savings to the average citizen of $.30 per 1000 gallons or $3.00 to $4.00 a month."

If approved, the water line will go down Central Avenue to 159th Street. It will then turn west to Harlem Avenue. A 42-inch main will extend to Oak Forest.

while the line to Tinley Park will be 30 inches wide. The cost of the project will be roughly $5.2 million.

Durkin said that if the water contract is approved by both towns within the next few weeks, the line can be constructed and be operable by June 1 of next year.

Oak Lawn will finance the water line through the sale of revenue bonds. These will be paid off over a 30-year period by the sale of water to Oak Forest and Tinley Park. Oak Lawn buys its water from Chicago at a cost of 27 1/2 cents per 1000 gallons. Oak Lawn will sell its water to Tinley at about 54 cents per 1000 gallons and to Oak Forest at about 50 cents per 1000.

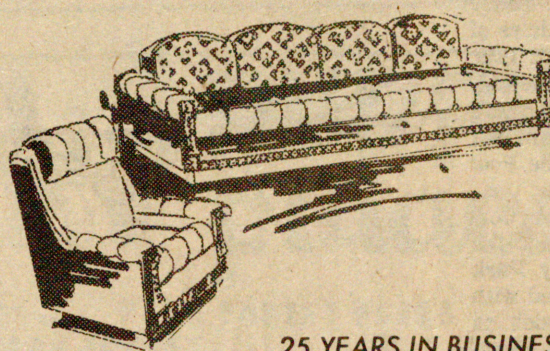

Again this cost would go down with the hookup of additional communities. Other local communities, such as Orland Park and Country Club Hills, now rely on well water and are experiencing rapid growth.

Oak Lawn residents themselves pay 77 cents per 1000 gallons. Other south suburban towns not contiguous to Chicago pay varied rates for their city water. For example, per 1000 gallons, Hazelcrest pays $1.05, Worth pays $1.10 and Palos Heights pays $1.60.

The Tinley Park Lions Pool Corporation articles of incorporation were filed March 12, 1959. The incorporators were: Lyle E. Nelson, Allen C. Ebell, Bernard Ackerson and Leslie Johnson. The Pool was built in 1961 for a total cost of $146,987.38. The Pool was placed in operation in 1962.

The Tinley Park Lions Pool Corporation was made possible through the contributed efforts of the Tinley Park Lions Club members. Lions helped with their speciality where needed, such as art work for promotional literature, printing and mailing, legal counsel, and liaison with the Village Board. The other members spent much time over a period of years, interviewing contractors, canvassing the area for possible site locations and on a massive effort to raise money to pay for architects plans which cost several thousand dollars.

Pool financing consisted of a sale of certificates of indebtedness and a construction mortgage for $65,000.00. Each year the Lions Club makes a cash contribution to the operating fund of the pool, the amount varying according to the size of their project fund. The have furnished from this fund and their labor, picnic tables for the pool grounds and furniture for the office and the snack bar eating area as well as the pool deck. All employees of the corporation, with the exception of the manager, are either high school or college students.

Individual Lion members have made gifts to the Pool Corp., ranging from land for an access road to the pool property, to certificates of indebtedness left as bequests in wills or as outright gifts.

Two of the Lion Club members are connected with a financial institution which furnishes office space and personnel during the swimming season to take care of the pool membership issuance and bookkeeping. Corporate audits are done by member accountants. When the pool is opened each spring, the water drained, a tremendous amount of labor is furnished by club members in scrubbing the painted pool surfaces with acid, and repainting them. Members who are in the painting business take charge of this and furnish materials at cost.

Use of the pool is given at no charge to the local school districts for student and faculty use at the end of the school year, and also to the Volunteer Fire Department whenever they wish to use it.

The Pool Corporation Officers and Board of Directors believe that to be of maximum benefit to the community the pool swim charges have to be at a rate that the families can afford. In 1971 their rates were just a little over one half that of the closest neighboring Pool. The rates will be the same this year with the exception of the largest families that do not own certificates of indebtedness or membership certificates.

The 1972 Officers and Board Members are: Leslie Johnson, President, Al Smerz, Vice President and Secretary, Robert Balcerzak, Director and Co-treasurer, Ray Leehaug, Director and Co-treasurer, Kenneth Fulton, Director, John Radloff, Director, William Christian, Director, Edwin Marcotte, Director, William Van Kooten, Director, Charles Graefen, Director.

It seems like only yesterday that the Lions Aqua-Center opened, yet 10 years have passed. This picture recalls the opening of the pool. The beauty queens are Lana Bettenhausen, Barbara Barker and Merrilee Johnson. The familiar Lion figure driving the car is Al Howie.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER BY JIM HIRSCH

An act of appreciation is an emotional contact between people. When appreciation is shown, the contact is made. When it is not shown, the contact is lost. It is the sort of contact that all people desire. It is a natural instinct in human nature to crave appreciation.

When appreciation is shown or expressed, it creates profound power to strengthen friendships or family ties. When, through indifference, neglect or casual attitude, appreciation is not shown, friendships and family ties are weakened. An act of appreciation actually represents a gift of yourself to the other person. Words of praise, a kind thank you, a pat on the back, a warm smile, a friendly handshake — are all modest gifts of yourself. It is a gift of kindness which inserts itself in the heart and mind. It is a gift that stimulates spiritual growth and genuine happiness for both the donor and recipient . . .

Rotating visits for Mom

By Jean Wille

Today I am interviewing Mrs. Alvin Calvin Yancey, who received the Mother of the Year award from the Motherly Mothers of Motherhood. Mrs. Yancey, (Bertha) is the mother of five children, grandmother of fourteen and an active member in just about every organization in town.

Well, Bertha, how was your Mother's Day?

I should live so long to have another one like yesterday.

Did all your children come to see you?

They not only came, but they brought all those kids with. I wouldn't mind so much if I had a bigger apartment, but I've only got two rooms. And some of those kids ain't the best behaved.

But I thought all mothers wanted to see their families on that grandest of all days.

Yes, but they could stagger their visits a little bit. It might sound like a picnic, but believe me it isn't. Not at 7:30 a.m. They just dumped all those presents right on top of me in bed and then started getting ready to eat.

Did you have enough food for all of them?

No. They brought chicken and potato salad.

You had chicken and potato salad for breakfast on Mother's Day?

It wasn't breakfast. By the time everyone got their hands washed it was lunchtime. I just wish they'd stagger their visits.

Well, did you get some nice presents?

Oh, sure. I got five corsages, five slips, fourteen hankkerchiefs and fourteen of the sloppiest-looking, handmade Mother's Day cards you ever saw. I sure wish they'd stagger their visits.

You know, Bertha, its hard to figure how you got the Mother of the Year award from the Motherly Mothers of Motherhood.

I'm president. But, don't misunderstand. I love my family. I just wish they'd stagger their visits.

You mean, some come in the morning, some in the afternoon and some at night?

No. I mean some this year, some next year, and some the year after.

Rayson bill aid women's rights

TINLEY PARK — The co-sponsor of the equal rights for women resolution passed the House Executive committee with some reservations.

State Representative Leland Rayson (D., 9th) said that he wanted the representatives to vote on the measure in order to determine sentiment for its passage.

Rayson said that the new state constitution has a provision which states:

"The general assembly shall not take action on any proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States submitted for ratification by legislatures unless a majority of members of the general assembly shall have been elected after the proposed amendment has been submitted for ratification."

So far, Rayson said, there seems to be only token male sentiment against giving women the same rights in law as men.

Many seek self-knowledge

By Mary Straub

CHICAGO — Seekers of self-knowledge — and perhaps some curiosity seekers as well — swarmed into the LaSalle Hotel the weekend of April 28-30 to attend the 1972 Midwest Regional Conference of the Association for Humanistic Psychology (AHP).

The association, now 10 years old, is comprised of professional and laymen who are dedicated to the idea that the human being is unique and creative.

Such a premise allows for an acceptance of the various multiple psycho-therapies now available, and even methods that appear to be more fun than work. Of the latter are the Chinese Tai Chi, an ancient system of meditation which doubles as a technique for self-defense or as a graceful dancing art. In another room, participants spent 90 minutes learning how to use music as "an avenue to one's inner self."

Willing volunteers stood in line to have electrodes pasted to their heads so they could project their brain waves into the alpha instrument, happy to note when they had reached by their own ability to remain inactive, a calm meditative state which is said to allow for a deep, rejuvenative rest from everyday woes.

In another mammoth room, Eugene Gendlin of the University of Chicago's psychology department, sat on the floor with scores of people, teaching his focusing and interaction techniques. It appeared to be an informal and serious soul-searching session.

Elsewhere, participants were breaking up in self-directed laughter as transactional analyst and sexologist, Stan Dale, talked on Sex and Human Loving.

The above represent the scope and variety of AHP, but they barely touch on the many topics presented at this conference. AHP professes to be concerned with the individual from his birth to his adjustment to old age.

Members of Tinley Park's "Quest Unlimited" human growth center were among those present.

AHP headquarters is in San Francisco, California and can boast of such founding sponsors as Rollo May, S.I. Hayakawa, Abraham Maslow and Carl Rogers.

Prestwick

By Michael J. Flynn
815-469-5617

The annual meeting of the Prestwick Homeowners Association was held in the club house Tuesday, May 9 with more than 100 members attending.

Outgoing President Art Miller of Aberdeen Road called the meeting to order at 8:30 p.m. He reported on the successful picnic and float display and thanked the persons who worked hard to make these events memorable ones. In the absence of the treasurer, Miller reported that $2,100.00 had been taken in dues and sundry income during the year and that after expenses he was turning over to the new officers $1,600.00.

President Miller also reported on the legal study done by the homeowners by Bill Flynn of Maple Court relevant to possible incorporation of Prestwick or annexation to some municipality. Flynn's report indicated that Prestwick is, under new incorporation laws of the state, could not yet qualify. He pointed out that Prestwick along with other unincorporated areas near it might qualify for incorporation if population and other factors proved favorable. Annexation to a municipality in the area is not favored by a majority of Prestwick residents at this time, it was noted.

President Miller also reported that meetings held with Prestwick Utilities during the year were fruitful and that progress toward upgrading their service is going to continue. He also noted that the proposed trailer park on Sauk Trail is still not a dead issue. Although all concerned municipalities surrounding the area have opposed the development, the Cook County Zoning Board has not yet ruled on the matter.

Election of new officers and directors took place. The directors are Donald O'Toole of Vieux Carre, James Condren of Westover, Arthur Miller of Aberdeen Road, George Luscombe of Prestwick Drive, Donald Olivieri of Fairway Lane and Ann Olivieri of Hawthorne Drive.

The new Officers are George Luscombe, president; Donald Olivieri, vice-president; Ann Olivieri, treasurer; and Agnes Shalgos, Golf Club Lane, secretary.

George Luscombe outlined the four social events scheduled for the forthcoming year.

1. Annual picnic on July 4 with the Jim Koguts as chairmen.
2. Frankfort Labor Day Parade with the Paul Meyers as Chairmen.
3. Annual golf outing on Sept. 24 with the Howard Ownleys as Chairmen.
4. Homeowners dinner dance, date to be announced, with the Edward Kirschs as Chairmen.

Committees of the association will be; Security and Safety, Recreation, Water, Zoning, Streets, Membership and Annexation and Incorporation. Anyone desiring to serve on any of these committees should contact George Luscombe at 9-2478.

The high tax assessments occupied much of the attention during the meeting. Glenn Coburn, Will County board member and Frankfort Township supervisor, was present along with Pat and Bill Ashbruner of Lincolnshire in Crete Township.

Coburn's speech went a long way toward explaining, clearly, the assessment situation but, he was not able to predict the final solution.

He pointed out that assessments alone do not determine the tax bill. The tax rate is the main factor and it has not yet been announced. He explained that the tax rates could go down compared to last year because the higher assessments would not require the same rate to raise funds for budgets already approved and submitted to the county clerk.

As an example, Coburn noted that the Frankfort Township tax rate this year will be around .34 cents per hundred dollars of valuation as against .49 cents last year. That is a drop of more than 30 percent due to the higher assessments announced on April 13.

Coburn also pointed out that the Illinois State multiplier, nearly 13 percent in Will County, will probably be completely eliminated this year since its main purpose was to bring poorly assessed counties into line with state assessment computations.

Coburn did concede that many of the assessments were inequitable and that relief was definitely needed. He pointed out that the only proper course of action to take was individual, not collective, by filing a complaint with the Will County Board of Review, and if need be, with the State Board of Review of the Department of Local Government Affairs and then the courts.

Several Prestwick residents agreed with Coburn's suggestions since they had followed those steps in protesting their previous assessments. Bill Flynn, the association's attorney, also agreed that it was the proper procedure to follow.

Coburn did make a prediction, the tax bills probably won't be mailed out before mid-November of 1972. He pointed out that no one knows for sure, but November appeared most likely.

Coburn emphasized a fact frequently overlooked by the taxpayers and voters. A resident residing in Lincoln Estates had a tax bill last year of only $138.00. Of this amount, $105.00 of it was for schools. Nearly 85 percent, (85 cents of every $1.00) of real estate tax payments goes to support local schools.

Pat and Bill Ashbruner outlined the many inequities in the present assessment plan with a very well prepared display that included photographs, purchase price data and new assessment information on several pieces of property in Crete Township. They agreed with Glenn Coburn and Bill

Flynn as to the proper protest method. They indicated that a class action law suit may well be filed by their organization seeking to over turn all the high assessments and to stop apparent favoritism shown in their display. They said that no final decision had been made as of May 1 regarding the date of the suit.

A petition addressed to Governor Richard Ogilvie was signed by all persons in attendance. It seeks his office as a mediator in the present assessment crisis.

Michael J. Flynn presented a petition for the residents to sign indicating their approval of House Bill 4631 which, if approved, will increase the pension benefits for sheriffs and deputies in Illinois. Signatures of 105 were received representing about 80 percent of the residents in Prestwick. The petition was then sent to State Representatives Blair, O'Brien and Houlihan and State Senator Meade Baltz.

State Representative John J. Houlihan, Democrat of Park Forest, acknowledged receipt of the petition. His letter indicated his appreciation and advised that the bill passed the Illinois House and was now in the Senate awaiting a vote.

Al Dawson of Abredeon Road gave a report indicating that he was having little success obtaining speed limit signs, yield signs and warning signs for Aberdeen Road. A call to Walter Yonker, Frankfort Township Road Commissioner, regarding these items brought the following information. "Children Playing" signs have been posted on Aberdeen Road and elsewhere. Speed limit signs and yield signs will be posted as soon as legal authority to do so is given to Yonker.

Yonker pointed out that he places signs. He has no authority to make the laws which allow him to place the signs. The Will County Board has never set an official speed limit for Aberdeen Road nor have they ever authorized yield signs as they are required to do by state law. Sauk Trail Section 5 has the same problem.

Glenn Coburn, chairman of the Highway Committee of the Will County Board, indicated that he would introduce whatever legislation is necessary to get the speed limit set at the next meeting of his committee and he will then submit it to the county board for immediate approval.

When this is done, he will have the proper signs installed by Yonker immediately. He noted that the next meeting of the board was not until June 12. He said he would seek authorization for a temporary order until then to place the needed signs now.

Spruce-up that mailbox!

MOKENA — This is "Mailbox Improvement Week." Postmaster Vincent J. DiBartolomeo reminds patrons of the Mokena post office; a traditional observance which contributes to environmental quality.

Mailbox Improvement Week is not a new thing. It has been observed for generations, it was pointed out. The effort is still especially important for rural delivery areas because more Americans receive their mail today on rural routes than ever before, it was said.

Dates of the week are May 15-20 and Postmaster DiBartolomeo is encouraging all of his rural customers to repair, repaint, as well as make other improvements, such as additional gravel on the approach if needed.

Security of each customer's mail is an important factor, postal officials pointed out, so missing or damaged doors on rural boxes should be replaced so the mail may be closed in.

Rural carriers out of the Mokena Post Office will be leaving a notice, "Your Mail Box Needs Attention," in boxes that require it, and they hope each customer will comply with regulations as noted.

A personal inspection will be made of all Mokena rural mail boxes by the postmaster this month, he said, with special emphasis given safety and accessibility.

Recount reveals upset

WILL COUNTY — Republican Paul Schillinger of Wheatland Township was declared the winner over Democrat Jerry L. Capps of Lockport on Monday, May 15, by Circuit Judge Robert Higgins with a five vote plurality for that district Will County Board seat.

Capps and Schillinger tied according to election judges when the precinct ballots were counted. County Clerk Clara HartlyWoodard later ruled that Capps was the winner by a one-vote margin. Capps was seated by the county board and participated in its deliberations until Monday Schillinger filed a suit for a recount.

In a recount, improperly marked ballots and ballots placed in the wrong envelopes can be challenged as to validity. Hearings previous to May 15 narrowed the contested ballots to 20.

Schillinger was previously a member of the Will County Board of Supervisors.

NEW LENOX — Indications now are that Lincoln-Way High School will offer courses this summer in U.S. History II (a required sophomore course) and typing.

As of late last week the length of the typing course had not been decided. To gain a full credit the class must meet three hours a day for eight weeks. If a half credit is desired the class will run two hours a day for six weeks.

Incoming freshmen and adults are welcome to sign up for typing. The fee will be determined by the size of the class. All classes will have morning sessions, it was said.

Anyone interested in registering for these classes or desires additional information may call Miss Bachman, 815-485-2511, Extension 43.

MCFD holds benefit

MOKENA — Annual dance of the Mokena Community Volunteer Fire Department will be held this Saturday night in the VFW Hall, 19852 Wolf Road.

Dancing is scheduled to begin at 9 p.m.

The pinocle party was conducted at the same place last Saturday night. One ticket admits the holder to both events. However, if one didn't go to the dance, and didn't receive a ticket through the mail, he can still buy one at the door. Tickets are $2.50 each or $5 a couple.

There will be flowers given to the women and prizes also will be awarded. "Your help will help us, to help you," the firemen say on a poster advertising the affair.

Proceeds from the dance and pinocle party will be used to buy needed equipment and supplies, it was explained. The Mokena department is made up solely of volunteers. Members of these volunteer departments receive no compensation for their services.

Board organizes

NEW LENOX — A. J. Turner, who has served as president of the New Lenox grade school board for the past four years, was re-elected to the post at the organization meeting.

Other officers who will serve during the coming year will be Harry Hobbs, vice president, and Ruth Stoneberger, secretary, both re-elected. Mrs. Stoneberger has served as secretary for four years. She was elected to the board again this year, along with Ralph Attaway, for three-year terms. The returns were canvassed and the two were declared officially elected.

Regular meeting dates for the board have been set for the first Tuesday and the third Wednesday following the first Tuesday of each month at the school district office in Oakview School, 809 N. Cedar Road.

Drop Dakota Drive

FRANKFORT — On recommendation of Trustee Donald Stupp the Frankfort village board has eliminated Dakota Drive from the list of street names in Connecticut Hills. It now is a part of Hawthorne Road. The two streets merged and with the two names are confusing to non-residents and especially deliverymen.

Village okays strip for sewer hook-up

MOKENA — The Mokena village board has formally adopted an ordinance for strip annexing certain thoroughfares to provide a sewer hook-up between the disposal plant on Wolf Road and the Hillcrest Builders housing development at 195th Street and 115th Avenue.

Adoption of the ordinance came after some of the residents of 191st Street appeared before the board to object to annexation of that thoroughfare. The objectors said they feared that the annexation of the street would lead to the annexation of the area.

Order taps Hooks as personnel director

MOKENA — Walter D. Hooks, Joliet, personnel director at S.T. Joseph Hospital, Joliet since October, 1966, has been named director of personnel services for the Association of Franciscan Sisters of the Sacred Heart.

The announcement was made by the Sister Timothy Marie Flaherty, president of the board of directors of the Association, at the mother house of the order in St. Francis Wood, Mokena.

In the newly created post Hooks will assist the board in maintaining a program of personnel administration in the five Illinois hospitals and one Indiana home operated by the sisters. His office will be at the mother house here.

Hooks came to Joliet from St. Joseph Hospital at Milwaukee where he headed the personnel department. He has been in that field since 1945. Hooks and his wife and five children reside at Joliet.

He has been succeeded as personnel director at St. Joseph Hospital by James L. Caswell, who has been his assistant since 1967. He is a graduate of Lewis College and before going to St. Joseph was employed by Caterpillar Tractor Co.

Term lengths decided

WILL COUNTY — The new Illinois Constitution which took effect in July of 1971 requires that all county boards in the state must have one half of their membership elected every two years for terms of four years.

This law meant that the first boards elected under its provisions would have a group of its members elected for only two years to properly align the future boards.

Will County recently complied with this regulation by placing nine slips of papers into a hat. On these slips were written the numbers of the nine county board districts.

Four were chosen, Districts 2, 3, 4 and 5 with eight Republicans and four Democrats being chosen to serve for only two years on the new Will County board.

Those members chosen to serve only two years were; District 2-John Oster of New Lenox, Glenn Coburn of Frankfort, Jerome J. Paddock of Lockport; District 3-Ray L. Woodcock of Lockport, Herman Alberico of Joliet and Stephen Luzbetak of Lockport; District 4-Chairman Roy F. Hassert of rural Romeoville, Edward D. Kusta of Lemont and Jerry L. Capps of Lockport; District 5-Robert P. Kiepe of Joliet, Helen S. Harshbarger of Plainfield and Allan C. Mauer of Plainfield.

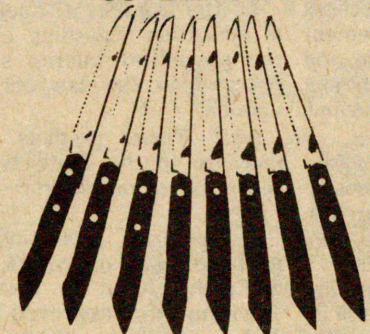

Because Hassert is one of the members who will serve only two years, new elections for chairman of the Will County board will take place after the next election.

Kelly suggests Village motto for celebration

OAK FOREST — At the regular board of trustees meeting on May 8, Mayor Bernard J. Kelly suggested to the elected officials that inasmuch as the village is celebrating its 25th anniversary it would be timely to adopt a motto for the city.

The suggestion met with immediate and unanimous approval. After some discussion the project was turned over to the city manager to work out the details and follow through with the method and final adoption of the motto. A decision was reached at the meeting to have all the citizens of Oak Forest participate, both young and old.

To have such a contest it is necessary to have some rules and guidelines. These follow:

The winner will be awarded a $50.00 savings bond and a plaque worthy of this distinction. All participants will be awarded a scroll in appreciation of their suggestions.

The contest will start immediately and terminate at midnight June 15. All entries to be delivered or mailed to Oak Forest City Hall, 15601 S. Cicero Ave., Attention: City Motto Committee.

It is preferred that entries be typewritten or printed. Post cards or letters will be accepted. One motto to an entry, 10 words or less.

The plan now calls for all entries to be screened and a winner selected in time to have Mayor Kelly make the presentation to the winner at the I Am An American Day Celebration.

The scrolls may be picked up at city hall after Sept. 15 upon presentation of personal identification.

Vo-ed program at state for Sandburg, Stagg

ORLAND PARK — A one and five year plan for vocational education in District 230 high schools, Sandburg and Stagg, was reviewed by the board at its April 24 meeting. The plan will now be sent to Springfield for review and acceptance.

In other action, the board was informed that the I.E.A., on behalf of the District 230 Teachers Association has filed for retroactive pay with the Internal Revenue Service. Richard Laner was retained by the board to represent the District. The district and the Teachers Association signed their wage agreement after the August 15, 1971 wage freeze, and the rules governing this issue seem to be somewhat obscure, and open to various interpretations.

Dealing with other matters of increased costs and inflation, the board approved an increase in school lunches from 40 cents to 45 cents for students, and from 50 cents to 55 cents for adults.

The board was informed by Superintendent W.O. Fisher, that District 230 is scheduled to be one of the schools reviewed by a task force of 61 business executives in a twelve week study of business practices of the states public schools, to determine if school districts can be run more efficiently with less money.

Construction matters took up some of the time at the board meeting. Sewage plans for Sandburg High School were reviewed and approved by the board. Bids are to be let on May 8, with work to start on June 1, and a completion date of August 1.

A letter from St. Michaels school board of education regarding clarification of the parochial busing situation was referred to the lawyers for a legal opinion.

Supt. Fisher predicts a 20 percent increase in the Districts 230 summer school based on the current enrollment figures.

A resolution protesting a proposed garbage dump on Will-Cook Road near McCarthy Road in Southwest Palos Township, was approved by the board, and sent to George W. Dunne, President of the Cook County Board.

Miss Deborah Zima, 8565 W. Hemlock Ave., Orland Park, is one of the coordinators for debutante parties. Local debutante committee members include Mrs. James Melka, 13159 S. 80th Ct., Palos Park; Mrs. Eugene Tsai, 13 Old Timber Lane, Palos Park, and Mrs. Robert Kocourek, 12153 S. 70th Ave., Palos Heights.

The presentation book committee includes Mrs. Alfred Ricker, 8816 W. 120th Pl., Palos Park; and Mrs. Hugo Cuadros, 13569 S. 86th Ave., Orland Park.

The dilemma of the door

By Gertrude Gallagher

ORLAND PARK — The idea came in the bathtub.

If Archimedes could dream up weight displacement in a tub certainly my friend Mabel was equal to figuring out a solution to the door problem...while sudsing her way to cleanliness.

The door had done faithful service between the kitchen and garage over the years. Opening. Closing. Slamming. It was a good old door. No personality. But made of good solid stuff.

But now Max, the master of the house, had stripped it; sanded, filled and stained it.

The years of being a real "swinger" had left old door warped and wrinkled with hard living. It took to the color job as badly as an old woman to an old time henna rinse.

In brief, door looked awful. Somewhere between bubbles Mabel found the solution.

"Eureka", she shrieked in Greek. The kids said, "You all right in there, Mom?" "Turn the door upside down and back wards", she answered.

"What's her problem?", wondered young Max. "Water on the brain, maybe", mused little Mabel.

"We can't. You locked the bathroom door on the inside," replied the kids who figured she wasn't all right in there.

Still all wet it didn't take Mabel long to demonstrate that the outside of the kitchen door had a beautiful veneer just panting for a stain job. All that was needed was to turn the door upside down and backwards!

Max came home panting to do another stain job and unaware of the happy solution awaiting him.

He took the news calmly. No trumps, No somersaults.

The weekend was lovely. The weather in the 70's! Max enjoyed it.

Strip! Strip! Sand! Sand! Fill! Fill! Stain! Stain! Varnish! Varnish!

What a beautiful door. What a beautiful idea. What a beautiful wife.

Max, an easy going guy, pointed out a few hangups he had about door. When that door goes upside down the hinge parts on the door won't meet the hinge parts on the door jamb.

Persistent fellow, he had a little thing or two about the lock. You can now lock yourself into the garage, but not inside your house. This is good for locking the kids in the house while you read a magazine in the car in the garage. It's not so good for keeping out burglars.

And yes, One other thing. The door handle is now three feet from the ceiling.

Other than that it was a pretty good idea.

Until Mabel learned that the trusty local lumber yard was featuring door seconds for $2.95 - ready for staining. With door knobs three feet from the floor.

Tune in again. Will Mabel take another bath? Will Max ever come home again? Will Young Max and Little Mabel's arms reach the door knob? And what about door? Does it or doesn't it?

Smoke cooking is slow cooking over a low flame with the grill cover closed. The food is usually cooked in an aluminum foil "boat". Excess fat should be drained off and a small amount of water added to the boat occasionally.

To add to your ease and success as an outdoor cook, keep these hints in mind: unless the food is extremely perishable, bring it to room temperature before barbecuing. Trim off most of the excess fat, and slash remaining fat every few inches.

If you are preparing a large cut of meat, use a meat thermometer to achieve just the right degree of doneness. Use tongs or spatulas instead of forks for turning meats to avoid puncturing the surface which allows juices to escape. If food gets too dark before it's done, slip foil under it. Wrap protruding bones or fragile parts in foil to prevent them from burning.

For a subtle "outdoorsy" flavor, soak hickory chips or small twigs overnight in water. Wrap the chips or twigs in foil, punch holes in it, and place it directly on the briquettes. Or, add the chips directly to the briquettes just before the food is done. For a deep, smoke flavor, add the chips or twigs when you start cooking.

Careful seasoning can add a special flair to your outdoor cooking. If a garlic flavor is desired, throw several cloves on the hot briquettes. Bastes and marinades made with acid (vinegar, wine, citrus juice) acts as a tenderizer. Those which contain "fats," such as salad oil or melted butter, add moisture to very lean foods. To keep food from drying out, bastes should contain some "fat."

Bastes which contain sugar should be applied during the last few minutes otherwise the surface of the food will become charred. Salt seasoning should be added after the food is cooked to prevent the juices from running.

Eat well.

Regional win for Providence

LOCKPORT — The Providence baseball team took one more step toward the coveted state title yesterday with a 3-1 regional victory over Lockport, Monday.

The game was first round action in the Romeoville Regional but was played at Lewis College because the Romeoville diamond was unplayable.

Providence will meet the winners of Tuesdays Joliet West-Bloom game today, May 17, for the regional title at Romeoville, at 4 p.m. Their present progress is as far as a Providence team has ever gone toward a state title. The 1965 Celtics went to the regional before losing in a bid for state honors.

Monday Coach Tom Dedin led with his mound ace Butch Markelz, and Markelz responded by tossing his seventh one hitter of the season, and his second in a row. Last week Markelz pitched the Celtics to an opening round district win against Joliet Central, 5-1.

Along with allowing Lockport one hit Markelz fanned 15 Porters enroute to the win.

The Celts jumped out to 1-0 lead in the first inning. With one out Markelz reached first on a fielders choice. Rick Susner walked and Rick Baranak singled Markelz home.

Providence broke a 1-1 tie and produced the final two runs of the game in the sixth inning.

Celts capture district title

NEW LENOX — The sectional is the next stop for Providence. The powerful Celts winners of 25 out of 28 games this season roared to a district title 6-3 of Lincoln-Way.

Larry Lee got the title win with an assist from Butch Markelz in relief. The Celts broke the game wide open in the second inning on a forced balk, as they went on to score three runs.

Ted Welsch singled and Ken Carruthers walked. Both runners advanced on a wild pitch. Joe Priebay bounced in a force play as Welsch was out at the plate with Carruthers moving to third.

Priebay on first began drifting toward second hoping to draw an errant throw, or a balk. The strategy worked as Priebay trotted to second on a balk. After Mickey Ruettiger walked Carruthers scored on a wild pitch. Lee singled and two runs scored when the outfielder momentarily bobbled the ball.

Singles by Priebay, a bunt single by Ruettiger, a single by Lee, Markelz' sacrifice fly a balk and a wild pitch accounted the final three Providence runs.

In the opening round of district play Butch Markelz pitched his fifth one hitter of the season to beat Joliet Central, 5-1. A triple by Augie Jurcic in the seventh inning broke Markelz' no-hit bid, and was the only ball hit to the outfield by Joliet.

The Celts broke the ice in the fourth inning Rick Susner and Rick Baranak singled and Welsch forced Susner on a fielders choice. Jay Druhan singled home Baranak, and then the Celts pulled a double steal. The Joliet pitcher then balked and Welsch came home on the play.

Providence scored three in the seventh when Carruthers singled, stole second and scored on Priebay's hit. Two infield outs resulted in two more runs.

Along with their district action the Celts managed to get in a Private League game last week with an 11-0 win over Chicago Christian. In the first meeting Providence beat Christian 22-0.

Bear tackle guest at Scout dinner

TINLEY PARK — Jeff Churchin and his wife, Judy, will be attending a Spagheti Dinner, by Cub Scout Pack 355, June 2, 6:30 p.m. at the high school.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Archie Alberts, 532-4442. Adults, $1.75 and children under 12 years, $.75.

The 1971 National Football League All-Star Game will be shown.

Churchin is presently offensive tackle for the Chicago Bears. He graduated from Florida State University.

Baranak started off scoring by drawing a walk. Ted Welsch singled, and Jay Druhan singled to load the bases. Ken Carruthers singled home Baranak, and Welsch scored the games final run on a sacrifice fly by Joe Priebay.

Commenting on the game, Providence coach Tom Dedin said "I was pleased with the win, but we made too many base running errors which could prove costly in future games if they continue."

Dedin plans to use Larry Lee in the title game today. Lee pitched a 6-3 win over Lincoln-Way in the district title game last week.

Sandburg tops district golf

LEMONT — Sandburg golfers won the Lemont District competition last Friday to advance to their own sectional Friday, May 19, at Silver Lakes Country Club, starting at 8 a.m.

The first three teams in district competition and the top three individuals advance to the sectional. The top three teams and players advance to the State finals May 26-27 at the University of Illinois.

Other teams and players in the Sandburg Sectional will come from the Argo and Grant Park Districts.

Sandburg shot a 317 followed by Hillcrest with a 324 and Joliet Catholic with a 334. John McIntosh of Sandburg was the top golfer with a 76. Greg Green of Sandburg and Tom Boylan of Hillcrest qualified for the section with 78s.

Titans beaten by Hillcrest

OLYMPIA FIELDS — Hillcrest stopped Tinley Park bid for a district baseball title 6-2 last week. The Titans had won over Oak Forest 7-0 in first round action before losing to the Hawks.

Jim Beacham tossed a two-hitter at Oak Forest as Ed Neal and Hohn Stanley each had two hits.

Against Hillcrest the Titans were held to one hit. Darrel Kimsey got the only hit in the fourth inning, a triple to drive in a run. Kimsey scored a few minutes later on a fielder choice for the teams only runs of the day.

The Titans have a big Southeast Suburban series this Saturday in a doubleheader winner take all battle with Rich Central for the league title with the first game starting at 10 a.m. at Tinley the twin bill will close out the season for the Titans.

Ryan pace LW to 2nd in track

ORLAND PARK — Terry Ryan of Lincoln-Way turned in one of the top performances ever seen in a Southwest Suburban Conference track meet Saturday as the Knights finished second to Oak Lawn for the second year in a row.

Ryan set a new conference record of :14.5 in winning the high hurdles and tied his own conference mark of :20.2 in the lows. He also won the 220-yard dash in :22.6.

The Knights suffered a blow in the pole vault when Mark Maxwell, who also long jumps twisted an ankle just before the start of the Long jump. Maxwell who been consistently doing 14-0 in the pole vault finished second in the event at 13-0. The winning vault was 13-6.

Lee Erickson was a double winner with a 1:56.5 in the 880 and a 4:24 for the mile. John Been was second in the mile in 4:29. The Knights 880 relay team won in 1:36.0. John Phillips was the Knights only other winner with a toss of 54-11 3/4.

Sandburg Guard in Swim-A-Thon

ORLAND PARK — The Sandburg Guard, the backbone of the swimming program at Carl Sandburg High School, is participating in the International Swimming Hall of Fame National Swim-Thon to raise funds for an electronic timing device for their pool and, as collections permit, to purchase other items to enhance the strong, well balanced swimming program at the high school.

The Sandburg Guard is made up of 80 high school girls and boys who donate their time and talents to the community by serving as swimming teachers and lifeguards in the evening and Saturday programs offered at the high school.

Here's how the Swim-S-Thon works. Each participant receives a kit consisting of a folder and sponsor sign up sheets. They get as many people as they can to sponsor them for a penny or more per length with a limit of two hours or two hundred lengths, whichever comes first. The participants then swim, under the supervision of the coaching staff and the Sandburg Guard, for a continuous two hour period and their count is certified and signed. The participants then return to their sponsors to collect.

The International Swimming Hall of Fame, located in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, is the developer of the Swim-A-Thon idea. Part of the funds collected by the Swim-A-Thon (20 per cent will be used to furnish and endow a world swimming library and museum at the Hall of Fame. This is the only Hall of Fame that is international and entirely financed from donations brought in by swimmers.

Of the funds 5 percent go to the International Travel Fund that sends swimmers overseas for competition.

The high school and the Guard will retain 75 percent of the funds.

The "Guard is counting on the participation of the members of all of the swimming organizations, such as the girls and boys swimming teams and the synchronized swim club, to help them reach their goal.

Anyone wishing to be a sponsor can call Alan Gillberg, swimming director and guard sponsor at Carl Sandburg High School. 361-4600, Ext. 50.

Knights lose district bid to Providence

NEW LENOX — Lincoln-Way High School's baseball team can say they lost to one of the best. The Knights dropped a 6-3 district decision to hosting Providence last week in the title match.

In losing to the Celtics the Knights were beaten by one of the areas most formidable prep teams, because the Celtics hold a 25-3 mark this season.

Providence scored three runs in each of the second and fourth innings.

The Knights had a couple of good moments the first in the fourth inning when Bob Lindemann walked and Blake Terkotte followed with a single. Don Krohn was called on to pinch hit and came through with a two run single.

A pair of back-to-back doubles by Don Reinert and Bill Roach accounted for the other Knight run.

The Knights hitting only .192 as a team this season had battled their way into the district finals with a 6-3, 11-inning win over Joliet East.

A triple by Roach in the 11th drove home a pair of runs and gave Lincoln-Way the victory. Lindemann who went the route for the Knights got the win.

Friday Lincoln-Way resumed Southwest suburban play Friday with a 4-1 win over Oak Lawn. Russ Jones who struck out 10 batters got the win.

Errors fatal

ORLAND PARK — "This will be one of the best teams I've ever had, their attitude and their desire to excel will make them winners." These words were spoken by head golf coach Dar Haywood last March 10 before the season opened and now 65 days later the Eagle golf team at Carl Sandburg has a district championship to make the words stand up.

Sandburg shot a 317 to capture the Lemont District at Cog Hill Golf Course Saturday outdistancing runnerup Hillcrest by seven strokes. Behind Hillcrest were: Joliet Catholic with a 334, Joliet West (336) Lockport (338), Lincoln-Way (342), Lemont (346), Joliet East (349), Providence (351), Tinley Park (351), Romeoville (357), Joliet Central (363), Stagg (364), Chicago Christian (383), and Plainfield (393).

Eagle John Mac Intosh took Medalist honors for the meet with a 76 and qualified for the sectional meet. Ray Kubis (84), Jack Schuberth (81) Greg Green (78), and Tom Frangella (82) also qualified along with MacIntosh.

Conference rival Homewood-Flossmoor also won their district meet at Grant Park shooting a 310 total with Blue Island Eisenhower second with a 312. Both of the teams beat the Eagles earlier in the year and will be in the Sandburg Sectional. Sandburg will have to finish at least third in the meet if they want to advance to the state meet and Homewood and Blue Island will offer the stiffest competition to date for the high-flying Eagle squad.

No-hitter for Little League

TINLEY PARK — Little League got underway officially in Tinley Park on Saturday, May 6, with three games having been played at Memorial Park.

Pre-game ceremonies were held, with the mayor and other village officials in attendance. In the minor league division, the Sox beat the Twins 10-5, and the Cubs overcame a six run deficit to beat out the Dodgers 8-7.

In the major league game that was played, the Cubs defeated the Indians 8-5.

Rain and poor field conditions forced postponement of the major league games that were scheduled for Monday and Tuesday.

On Wednesday the major league Tigers played the Angels and Dwayne Dreyer of the Tigers pitched the first no-hitter of the season blanking the Angels 4-0. Dwayne struck out 13 batters and walked four as the Tigers coasted to the victory on their first outing.

Jimmy Frances pitched for the Angels and did an excellent job, striking out 10 and walking one, but a couple of errors, timely hits by the Tigers, and lack of hitting by the Angels all contributed to defeat.

In the major league game played on Thursday, it was the Sox over the Dodgers by a score of 7-3. On Friday, the Angels beat the Cubs, 8-5.

Two lead Celtics to 4th place

NEW LENOX — The Providence track team led by Mickey Bontemps, and Bob Bravato placed fourth in the Private League track meet Saturday.

Luther South won the meet with 57 points. Timothy Christian was second with 47 points and Luther North third with 44.

Bontemps won the 220 in :23.4, and Bravato took the long jump with 20-1¼. The Celtics 880 relay team clocked a winning time of 1:34.2.

Coach ranks golfers high

ORLAND PARK — Carl Sandburg baseball team has only two conference games left in a season that started like wildfire and is ending in a losing skein of seven of their last eight games.

The latest heartbreak for the young Eagle squad was last Friday at against Homewood-Flossmoor.

Righthander Tom Ormsby hurled a four-hitter posing ten strikeouts but didn't get any hitting support and lost 3-1.

Sandburg, plagued by poor hitting the whole year, could only muster four scattered singles in losing effort. Ormsby record is now even at 2-2 in conference play.

The Eagles only win since April 27 was against Lemont in the first game of district play. Bill Edwards was the winner in the 4-2 victory.

The next day against a Lockport the Eagles committed seven errors and made numerous mistakes in the field and lost 7-4 to.

Jeff King was the loser but despite the errors still pitched a fine game as far as hits allowed, strikeouts etc.

"Our defense was terrible, we had too many mistakes in the field, and we just can't seem to hit this year," said Coach Ron Mellen.

The Eagles conference record stands at 5-7 with five lone run losses in a row before the 3-1 loss to Homewood.

John Miles remains the one bright stip for the Eagles at the plate with his red-hot 350 batting average. Miles leads the team in all major hitting departments and has yet to make an error in the field.

Besides Miles, hurlers Jeff King, Bill Edwards and Tom Ormsby are having fine seasons. Sandburg travels to Bremen this Friday, May 19 at 4 p.m.

Y offering two week canoe trip

OAK LAWN — Brad Bransky, Director of Youth Services for the Southwest YMCA, has announced that reservations are now being taken for a two week wilderness canoe trip which leaves on June 30 and returns July 13.

Bransky an experienced canoe trip guide, will take a co-ed group of ten high school students to northern Minnesota Superior National Forest. "We will follow the routes of the voyagers and Indians who trapped and explored in the area," Bransky said. The "voyagers" will canoe and fish for twelve days of a pure wilderness adventure.

No camping or canoeing experience is required but applicants should be competent swimmers. Last year's trip filled up almost immediately so interested youth should contact Bransky at the Southwest YMCA, 4951 West 95th Street, or call 424-8100 or BE 3-7333. Diller leads fight for open hearings

OAK FOREST-TINLEY PARK—Last Wednesday's meeting of the District 145 school board opened with Gerald Diller, a Gingerwood resident, presenting a petition with 456 signatures. Diller said that the petition was signed by district residents who wished that the case of Arthur Adelburg be brought out into the open.

Adelburg was the Morton-Gingerwood principal. In March, his contract for next year was not renewed and later, he was put on unrestricted leave for the rest of the year. Instead of accepting the board's decision, Adelburg asked for an open hearing. The school board granted a hearing, but decided it would be in the best interests of the district to hold it in executive session. There have already been three hearing sessions and another is scheduled for May 22.

After the petition was presented, Harold Summerfield, attorney for the district, said that as soon as the hearings have been completed and the board makes a final decision, a complete transcript of the hearing would be put on public record.

Another man asked why executive sessions couldn't be held either before or after the meeting so members of the audience would not have to wait around during the longer closed sessions.

Several members of the board indicated that having executive sessions before or after the meeting had already been tried. They said it didn't work out much better, since members of the audience were then afraid that the board might be trying "to pull the wool over their eyes."

Board member James Blankenship read a statement in which he disagreed with a recent HERALD story on the Adelberg case. He said that the paper had been editorializing on its news pages. (The complete text of his statement is in the Fencepost on Page 4.)

In other business, the board decided to hold a meeting at 7 p.m. before the next board meeting (May 24) to discuss the Individually Guided Education program which is to be presented to the board. Representatives of the teachers and staff will appear before the board.

The board decided to pick up the expenses of this year's trip to Springfield for the eighth grade graduates. James Jones, counselor at Arbor Park, said that students had raised $200 to pay the expenses of those students who could not otherwise pay their way.

Board member James Cook made a motion that the board pick up all the expenses for the trip on the condition that the students donate their $200 to the library for books.

144 students will be going on the trip. In his legal report, Summerfield said that the carpeting at Morton-Gingerwood school did not meet specifications when tested for both pile and pull. He said that he was going to recommend that the Illinois School Building Commission withhold payment on the carpet. The cost of the carpet is approximately $100,000.

Summerfield said that the carpeting company should be given the choice of either leaving the carpet as it stands and not charging the district, or complete removal and replacement of the carpet at no additional charge.

School board receives deed for new site

TINLEY PARK—Elementary district 140 Board of Education has acknowledged receipt of a letter from Allied Homes, Bremen-Towne contractors, stating the deed for Outlot A, Bremen-Towne Estate, Unit 6, Phase 2, was forwarded to district 140 to be turned over to the school trustees and held as a future school site.

The Tinley Park Park District has agreed to seed all lots deeded to Tinley Park school districts to prevent these vacant sites from becoming eyesores.

Under Old Business, the District 140 board approved Policies three, four, and five as amended. Policy Three has to do with student business-age of entry, promotion, health and disciplinary policies. Policy Four concerns building and grounds—general rules and applications for the use of the building and fees, if to be charged. Policy Five regards health and safety—disaster and fire drills, health examinations and information as applicable to employees.

Hohn Bannes, District 140 superintendent, reported that all safety code work not to be done by the district employees for Kirby school, will be bidded out. By September it is hoped the fire alarm and monitoring systems will be completed.

State sponsors fishing contest

SPRINGFIELD—Anglers are finding the hot spots in Illinois waters as entries begin to come in for the Record Fish Contest sponsored by the Illinois Department of Conservation.

"Three lunker bass are among the initial entries we have received," said Al Lopinot, chief fisheries biologist in the division of fisheries. "Although not state records, these fish will be eligible for the big fish portion of our contest."

It is a two-part contest. There is a category for state record fish and one for the biggest fish of a particular species that is not a record.

Robert Yamamoto, Charleston, landed an eight-pound, 15½-ounce largemouth bass at Lincoln Trail State Park. The fish was 24 inches long with an 18½-inch girth.

Yamamoto's fish was surpassed a few days later by Robert Gardner, Pekin, who landed a nine-pound, five-ounce largemouth from the Three Lakes Sportsmans Club lake in Knox County. The fish was 25 inches long with a 19-inch girth.

Gardner's fish was in turn beaten by Rodney Mickel, Springfield, who landed a nine-pound, 12½-ounce largemouth from Lake Jacksonville. Mickel's fish was 23½ inches long and had a girth of 21½ inches.

The Record Fish Contest is conducted yearly on a calendar basis—from Jan. 1 through Dec. 31—with the winners receiving pins and certificates.

"The rules are simple," Lopinot said. "The fish must be caught by pole and line from Illinois waters and cannot be taken from fee fishing areas. The fish must be weighed to the nearest ounce on scales legal for trade in the presence of two witnesses. Length must be measured to the nearest one sixteenth of an inch."

Lopinot said that state record fish must be identified by a department fishery biologist, who can be reached through the conservation officer in each county. If there is a delay in reaching the biologist, the fish should be frozen, he advised.

Entry forms are available from most sporting goods stores, from county law enforcement officers or by writing to the department.

in the 100 yard dash. The A team tied for seventh place and the B team placed ninth.

SPRINGFIELD—The Illinois Conservation Advisory Board has approved shotgun deer season dates and opening day for upland game for the 1972 hunting season, according to Henry N. Barkhausen, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation.

The shotgun season for deer will be Nov. 17 - 19 and Dec. 8 - 10. There will also be a bow and arrow season for white-tails, but the dates have not been set.

The upland game season for quail, rabbit, pheasant and Hungarian partridge will begin on Nov. 11. The closing dates will be set later.

"Closing dates and bag limits will probably be set in August," Barkhausen said. "Our game biologists will have to make population studies of the different species before we can set the lengths and bag limits of the seasons."

"It is our primary concern at this time to give starting dates to sportsmen can set their calendars and vacation dates accordingly. It is our intention that the deer season will take place the third weekend in November and the second weekend of December each year, and the upland game season will begin the second Saturday of each November, if wildlife populations will permit us to open seasons on those dates."

Ridge All Star Hockey Team and Fieldcrest All Star Hockey Team met for their traditional competition at Ridge School recently.

The Ridge teams was victorious with an 11-4 win for the 11-13 year team and a 9-3 victory for the 9 and 10 year olds.

Cottingham quits C of C post

MOKENA—The Mokena Chamber of Commerce met on Monday May 15, at the village hall with seven members present.

A letter was read from Cadet Cottingham in regards to his resignation as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Marcia Miller was appointed as the new secretary.

A report was given on the "Welcome Neighbor" project by Mrs. Polly Ryan and Mrs. Judy Nieman. They made 10 calls last week. Three new members also joined the chamber.

The Second Annual Mokena Chamber of Commerce golf outing and dinner dance will be Aug. 23 at Silver Lake Country Club. Ed Podkulski was named chairman at the meeting.

The next meeting will be a luncheon at Jardines at 12 noon June 5.

The program was presented by Will Tuttle on "What Grade Would You Give?" He read off 31 virtues for the progressive town. If a community could answer yes to 24 of them citizens can take pride in their town. If there are more no's than yes's, somebody should start working. The groups answers were 19 yes's and 11 no's. If anyone would like to rate their town, the article was published in the HERALD of Frankfort, Mokena, New Lenox on May 3.

Student Scene

William R. Styles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Styles, 5781 W. Vine St., Oak Forest, sophomore at Augustana College, Rock Island, has been elected a member of the representative assembly, student government organization, for the 1972-73 school year.

Commonwealth Edison Co. had requested an easement on lots across 173rd Street opposite Kirby School in order to install electric poles in an area between two sets of three lots. The board concurred that the property is more apt to retain its value by remaining whole, in the event the district desires to sell it in the future.

The board went into secret session to discuss the hiring of new teachers. Eight teachers were hired for the district, and one psychologist for the pupil services area.

Mrs. Sharon Vestal, board member, was appointed Board Legislative Chairman.

Members attending the meeting were John Novosel, Wayne Rath, Herb Walker, Mrs. Vestal, Claire Chernak and Don Loring, Board President David Leidrke and Supt. Bannes. Absent was Mrs. Marilyn Cox.

QUIT HORSEING AROUND!

Making the most on your money takes horse sense—not horse play! It takes the ability to accurately judge an investment's security and returns... before you make the investment, not afterward.

The prospect of earning 6% per annum on a $10,000, 2-year savings certificate, and 5¾% on a $5000, 1-year certificate is a good deal—even if risk were involved. But at Lake Shore Savings we assure you high returns on your investment without the necessity of crossing your fingers and hoping for a winner. And we remove the element of chance: your funds are insured to $20,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. You don't have to saddle yourself with a weak investment.

But if you're looking for excitement... if you enjoy the feeling of your blood pressure rising and your stomach gnarling, well... that's a horse of a different color!

'Let them sit on floor'

WESTHAVEN — At a special Board meeting Wednesday evening May 10th, the Westhaven Village Board gave Tekton Corporation home builder three days in which to correct the condition's that prompted Westhaven's building inspector Dennis Ward to place stop orders on two buildings under construction.

The village hall was packed wall to wall with interested townspeople, at one point a large group of residents were gathered outside on the lawn trying to enter the hall, President Curtis Whitaker stated there are no chairs or room.

Ward in explaining the stop order situation stated that the builder placed dry wall in the buildings before the proper electrical and plumbing inspections were made, the buildings were not rough inspected stated Ward. Upon entering the buildings the inspector asked the men applying the dry wall to leave, when Ward came back to the buildings he said he felt that his word was not being adhered to.

David Zajicek attorney for the builder asked, "what if this happens again, give us the right not to have to come back to the Board, but go directly to the building inspector to correct the situation." Zajicek stated that he and Village Attorney Ronald Glink had interpreted the village ordinance differently and that they felt the builder did have the right to go in and correct the problem.

Trustee Donald Kellogg stated that the present ordinance did give the builder the right to correct the situation.

President Whitaker recommended that the present ordinance dealing with stop orders be amended. "I will ask the Village attorney to submit a written opinion on the ordinance, or will ask for his discharge," Whitaker said.

Trustee Ralph Aldrich said "we must come to a big understanding, the building inspector has a right to put stop orders, he has no right to stop you from going in to correct the problem."

"What do you propose to do about all the complaints I have?" Whitaker asked Emery Harman of Tekton. "I have to believe these people" Whitaker said. Tekton attorney Zajicek told Whitaker, there is no way to satisfy all the people one hundred percent, we Tekton will get their complaints satisfied to the best of our ability.

"Why would Westhaven be any different than any other Village?" asked Harman, we (Tekton) have been told we won't get inspections, but things are not spelled out in an ordinance, it is not like that in any other town." Whitaker told Harman, "I can take you to other towns where it is the same." What does STOP mean asked Whitaker. Trustee Aldrich said everyone has their own interpretation of the ordinance.

Several other items connected with the building department were also discussed at the special meeting.

Whitaker asked that the board appropriate $1200.00 for building department decals, printing, a typewriter and an adding machine. Aldrich told Whitaker, "I can't see a typewriter for the building department when the clerk's office doesn't have one, we should look into this thoroughly." Whitaker told Aldrich what Clerk Charles Short needs for himself should be brought by him. (Several months ago a robbery took place in the Village Hall, among the items stolen were the clerk's typewriter and copymachine.)

Whitaker then asked that the board make the authorization to place an ad in the local papers for a building department secretary, at the salary of $2 per hour for a 40 hour week. The secretary would be limited to building department work stated Whitaker.

Kellogg asked "Do you think it takes 40 hours? We have three inspectors, we're going to run the only contractor away we have." "Would you kindly give us 20 hours or 18, give us even 10," Whitaker said.

The board then agreed to place an ad in the local papers for a secretary starting at 20 hours per week.

Whitaker also asked the board for a bond for the building inspector and a telephone for the building department on an immediate basis.

Kellogg told Whitaker they will have a report on bonds and insurance at the next meeting.

The board moved to install a phone in the village hall for the exclusive use of the building department. With Whitaker insisting that all phone calls be logged in and out. Voting yes on the motion were Kellogg, Aldrich and Whitaker, Bartholomey voted no.

Victor C. Propp, of Cooper-Show Ford, Inc., Frankfort, recently completed a leasing management course conducted at Ford's Chicago Marketing Institute.

The course is one of a number offered by Ford Marketing Institutes to benefit Ford and Lincoln-Mercury customers by emphasizing after-purchase service and customer relations.

Westhaven may face three board vacancies

WESTHAVEN — In the event that Trustee Ciane Bartholomey does move out of Westhaven, as she is contemplating, the village will be faced with three vacancies on the board.

Trustee Charles Downie also has decided to move out of Westhaven in the near future.

Vacancies may be filled by appointment by recommendation of the village president or remaining board members. Approval of such appointments must have the majority of the board.

All trustee appointments will run until the next regular village election, which takes place in April of 1973. At that time five new trustees, village president and village clerk will be elected.

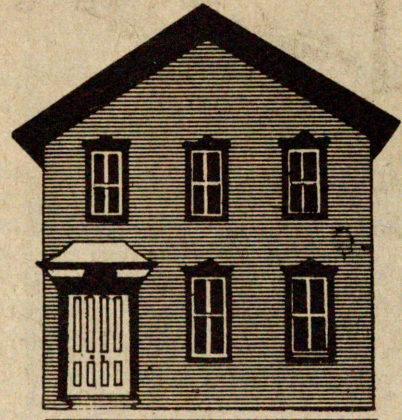

A complete board of six trustees and village clerk were elected in April of 1971.

Dist. 228 board hears suggestions for citizens

MIDLOTHIAN-Recommendations by Fred Flener, Chairman of the Curriculum Committee, were generally well received by the members of High School District 228 board Tuesday evening, May 9.

Flener suggested that various citizen committees be formed to facilitate several educational areas. He suggested a committee to evaluate the types of students attending the district schools, extending to the numerous needs of these students, whatever they may be. This would constitute a district reorganization of priority listings.

"In education there is no right or wrong. Each district has to study its own school system thoroughly," he said, and further recommended that the schools be used as resource centers open to the community.

Flener also advised a staff differentiation which would lead to a more adequate teacher and teacher aide service. Possibly, the district would not have needed to hire 10 new teachers in order to meet their teacher-pupil ratio this year if an in depth study had been made of the situation, he said.

A study of the all-year school program also would be made by a separate committee.

The board expressed concern that perhaps Flener was to ambitious. He was advised to categorize his recommendations more exactly and present them in writing to the members at the next board meeting. He also was asked to try to recruit people to work on these committees.

Supt. John Flynn commented on a sour fact of human nature; that while several individuals may get going on a project, only a small percentage of them carry through to finalize plans.

In another area, the board was pleased with bids presented for specific construction jobs for the Oak Forest High School addition. The bids brought in totaled roughly $300,000 under the budget allocation for this building plan. Approval of the bid analysis was quickly given by the board and contracts will be implemented immediately.

Cook county's Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) is increasing funding to districts through its Manpower Division, said Asst. Supt. Robert Wheat. Under the heading of Neighborhood Youth Corps, it is primarily for students who wish to work in schools having employment openings. Provisions from OEO and the responsibility of the district were outlined.

Renewal of the school building lease was approved by the board at an increase of $5,000 per year, bringing the yearly payment to $90,000.

Purchase invoices for the month of April, totalling $219,333.19 also were approved.

The regular board of education meeting will be held on May 23 at Bremen High School in Midlothian.

Supervisor reports

Frankfort funds show a balance

FRANKFORT — The annual town and general assistance reports of Supervisor Glenn P. Coburn show a balance in each. The reports appear in detail on another page in this issue. The reports cover the period of April 1, 1971 through March 31, 1972.

In the Town Fund there is a balance of $53,251.77. The receipts for the year were reported at $96946, of which $40,875 came from taxes. Expenditures, which includes wages and salaries and supplies, amounted to $43695.

In the General Assistance Fund receipts came to $21,942 and the amount spent totaled $10961, leaving a balance of approximately $10,980.

Receipts for the Road and Bridge Fund came to $118,092.99 of which $93902.35 was from taxes collected in 1971, which are the 1970 taxes. Expenditures amounted to $97956.42, leaving a balance of $20130.57 to start the new fiscal year.

County officials who deal with taxes say they have no idea as to when the tax bills will be out. There are still many things that have to be done, and there are so many complaints about high valuations on property that the guesses on when the bills will be out run from late summer to early fall.

According to law all of the personal property tax and at least half of the real estate tax must be paid by June 1 if a penalty is to be avoided. Second installment of the real estate tax is due Sept. 1, after which date a penalty is added to late payments.

Now that the new county board is finally organized it is expected they will set new deadlines for tax payments.

This is a quadrennial year — real estate is re-valued every four years.

Oren Pomeroy Jr., hired as supervisor of assessments on a five year contract by the old board of supervisors, had his field crews out looking. The assessors' books show the figures set down by those field crews.

The amended figures in the assessors' book are published in newspapers and the property owner has 10 days after the publication to get to Joliet and file a complaint with the board of review — if he has a complaint to make. This year there have been so many complaints filed that the board of review is snowed under.

The board of review is supposed to view the property and determine whether the assessment is high, low, or correct. There are so many complaints raised this year, it was said by officials, that it would be impossible for the board to function as it is supposed to.

There are some property owners who say their assessments are fair but there are a great many who say their valuations have been pushed ridiculously high. Whether there can or will be a blanket rollback has not been decided.

The state revenue people this year say they want property assessed at 50 per cent of its fair market value (four years ago it was 55 per cent), or they will impose a multiplier to bring it up to that figure. What constitutes a fair market value, observers say, is interpreted in different ways and that has caused the problem.

Referendum wins by slim margin

ARBURY HILLS — The school referendum covering a bond issue and an increase in the educational tax fund rate voted on last Saturday by the voters of Summit Hill District 161 gave both issues a slight margin of victory.

The people of Arbury Hills, which over the years have always supported schools in money matters lived up to their past reputation and gave approval to both issues. Lincoln Estates residents, who for a number of years have been rejecting appeals by Ann Rutledge School for a higher education fund tax rate, voted against both proposals last Saturday in such numbers that the issues barely survived.

The bond issue was for $745,000 and the tax rate increase was for 25 cents, up from $1.17 to $1.42.

Vote on the bond issue gave it approval with 18 votes to spare, 251 to 233.

Margin of victory for the tax increase was nine, 247 to 238.

Each of the two schools, Arbury Hills and Ann Rutledge, served as a polling place. Arbury Hills was in Precinct 1 and Lincoln Estates in Precinct 2.

Summit Hill district will be hard pressed for pupil-room until it can build additional classrooms, it was said, due to the Frankfort Square home development at U.S. 30 and Harlem Avenue. The developers, Hoffman-Rosener have given the school a site and will put up $125,000 to build the first room of a school to serve the youngsters there.

As of this writing school authorities are still uncertain as to what their real estate valuation will be but are sure it will be over the present figure. Right now the district has a bonding power of $130,000, which is five percent of its valuation, real and personal.

When the voters approved a total bond issue of $745,000, the district can issue only the amount permitted by its valuation. Sometime in the next fiscal year the district plans to seek aid for building the school at Frankfort Square from the state school building commission.

One of the steps necessary for this is for a district to exhaust its bonding power and Summit Hill has done that. There is

Ordinance passes

New fee set for sewer tap-on

NEW LENOX — An ordinance setting up a new schedule of fees for sewer tap-ons has been adopted by the New Lenox village board. The measure doubles the price listed in the original ordinance. The new ordinance sets the fees as follows:

Single family	$500
Multiple family first unit	$400
Second unit	$300
And for each additional unit thereafter	$250
Motels, per room	$125
For business and commercial properties the fee shall not be less than $1,500 an acre.

The action taken by the board was recommended by John Djerf, of the Robert E. Hamilton and Associates, an engineering firm serving New Lenox as village engineers. He explained that the cost for making sewer tap-ons has increased to exceed the former scale.

Djerf reported that the water system is progressing satisfactorily and should be ready for service in June.

More than 400 householders have applied for water service as of last week and more applications are reported coming in.

Other business before the council included:

— Adoption of an ordinance annexing U.S. 30 from the west property line of Providence High School to the eastern village limits.

— Adoption of a pay schedule for village employees, under which part-time policemen will receive $3.25 an hour; basic pay for regular policemen, $4 an hour on a 44 hour week, with a five-cents an hour increase annually up to five years another requirement, however. The people must vote approval of what amounts to a rental arrangement with the state. The district must pay back to the state the money the state puts into the school.

This repayment extends over a period of 16 years, three months. At the end of that time the district owns the school and the state has its money back. The state advances the money for the building without interest charge so a district that can build a school in this way is money ahead, it was pointed out.

Miller said the village would check out the addresses compiled by Mr. and Mrs. Small and determine whether the ground downspouts penetrating the ground connect with the sanitary sewer. Connecting downspouts with the sanitary sewer is illegal and subject to penalty.

Miller thanked the Smalls for their efforts in endeavoring to locate the source of the trouble. Small explained that they did not trespass on any property but made their notations from observation from the streets.

"There may have been some downspouts that we couldn't see because of trees or shrubbery," he told the council, "but we didn't want to go on anyone's property." Smalls' trouble come after heavy rains, he said.

Fr. Memenas named pastor at St. Mary's

MOKENA — The Rev. Vytas Memenas has been named by Bishop Romeo Blanchette as pastor of St. Mary parish, Mokena, effective June 1.

He succeeds Father Patrick Curtis, a Franciscan who came here about a year ago from Memphis. This order has supplied the clergy for St. Mary since it attained parish status but as of this spring the order gave notice that it was withdrawing its priests from St. Mary. St. Anthony, which was formerly a part of St. Mary, also attained parish status and has its own priest.

Father Memenas has been at Our Lady of Lourdes parish at Gibson City and St. George Mission at Melvin. At one time he was an assistant at St. Anthony parish in Joliet.

This Sunday, May 21, the parishioners of St. Mary will hold an open house from 2 to 6 p.m. to bid farewell to the Franciscan Fathers who have been in charge of the parish since 1914.

The parishioners are planning the affair as a mark of their appreciation to the Franciscans for their spiritual guidance and direction for the past 58 years, said to Edward J. Grotovsky president of the Holy Name Society. Over the years St. Mary parish has become a vital part of the community and its friends, as well as members have been invited to attend the open house.

Brightwood projects await fall completion

MOKENA — At a meeting of the Mokena board of local improvements the Mulford Engineering firm, Chicago Heights, with which George Barber is affiliated, has been employed to prepare plans and specifications for the installation of sanitary sewer and water systems and repair of streets to and in the First Addition of Brightwood. This session was held early last Wednesday morning, following the regular meeting of the village board.

Thomas Lee, a resident of Brightwood, appeared at the board meeting to see if any action had been taken on the sewer question. Residents of Brightwood annexed their properties to Mokena last year for the express purpose of getting sewer main. The village had planned to hook the Brightwood system to a sewage treatment plant that was to have been built as part of a planned unit development extending from Penn-Central tracks on the south to practically the south limits of Mokena.

Plans for this treatment plant were drawn and sent to the state for approval. Nothing further has been announced.

It has been decided to run the Brightwood sewer main to the present disposal plant on N. Wolf Road.

The project is to be done through special assessment, it was explained. The village engineer George Barber, said there shouldn't be any problem in meeting a fall construction schedule unless there should be some unforeseen delay in court.

In other business — Mrs. Charles Hostert asked for action in remedying the drainage situation on West 19th St. Barber is to make a final study of the problem, it was said. Mrs. Hostert said the culverts by the Nelson property at Wolf Road are open and that the ditch along there has been filled with stone and buried. The village was to check on the situation.

On a motion by Trustee Chester Ebert, the board hired Success Research Consultants of Olympia Fields to represent the village on the proposed Weber development until further negotiations are reached. The village will pay the firm only for the time it puts in. Success Research is headed by Kenneth Webster, Tinley Park, and another member of the firm is Robert Mason, presently a trustee of the village of Tinley Park.

Webster told the Mokena trustees the firm would prepare a comprehensive plan for the village, if desired. Under their plan subdividers would pay the cost of their services rather than the village. They have a staff of about 20, Webster said. They will submit a proposal to the village at a joint meeting of the village board and the zoning and plan commissions.

Mayor Will Tuttle said he had word from the Rock Island lines that it would start removal of its team track from the mall this week. He has had no word yet concerning the Hamilton Street Crossing. Apparently no work is being done there and the crossing has been closed since last year.

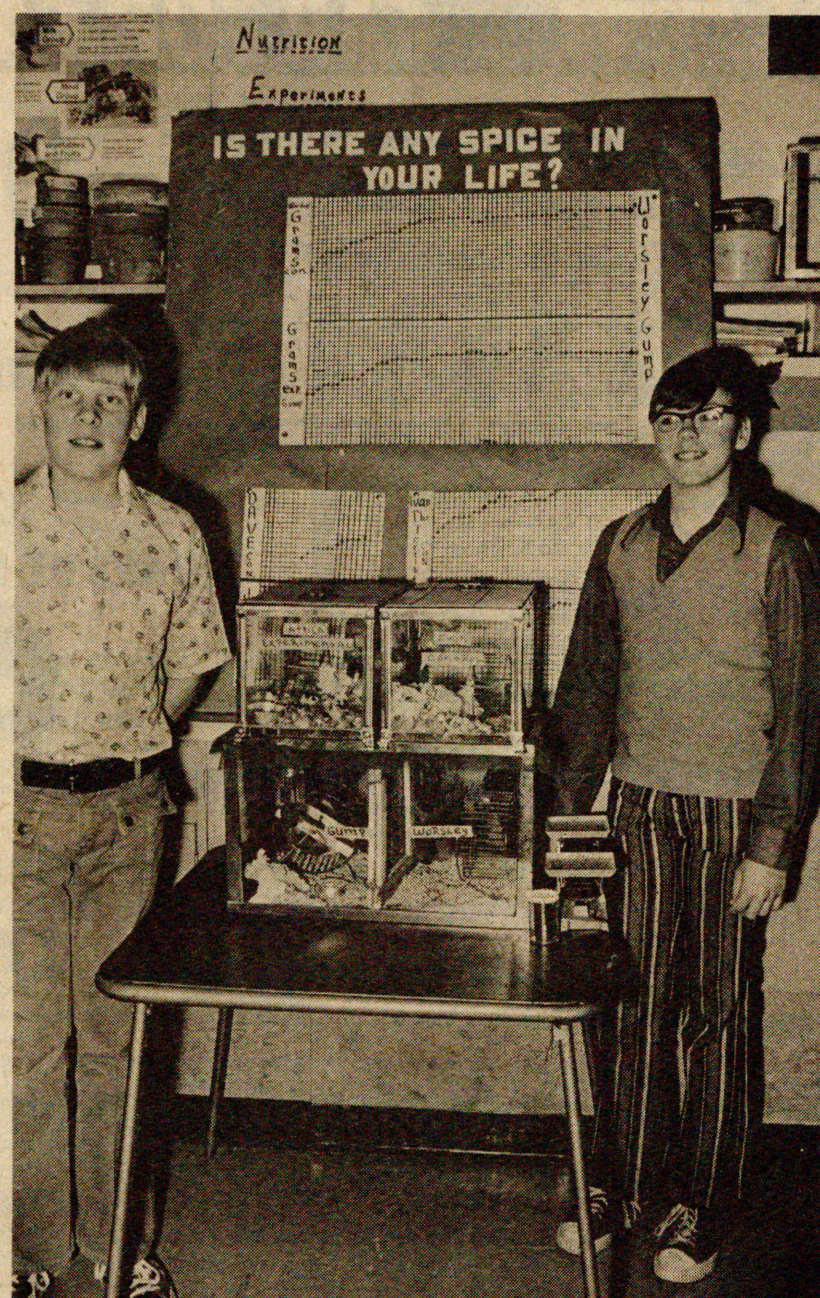

An observer said he hoped Mokena had better luck with the Rock Island in opening Hamilton Street than has the city of Joliet on the opening of Bluff Street which was closed some 40 years ago on a supposedly temporary basis while the state was building bridges over the Illinois Waterway. The City of Joliet even went to court but Bluff Street was never opened.

The Lincoln-Way High School band is slated to hold a car wash at Mokena Saturday, May 20.
